Full House Sees Pacifica 'Drama'

A Torrid Public Hearing

By LOIS McNALLY

Pacificans who enjoy live drama saw a good performance last week in a two-hour theatrical played out at city council meeting.

While the title sounded dull (a hearing on the award of the city's legal advertising contract) it was a good show for the spectators who packed the council hall to standing room only.

Councilmen wryly commented later: they had not observed such a public furor since the time they passed a dog leash law.

The suspenseful public hearing was climaxed by a dramatic 3-2 council vote, which awarded the prize to the underdog, Arnold Kloeppel of the Coastside News, a verdict which drew applause from some.

Mayor Harold Feyge, Councilmen Harland Minshew and George Mason voted for the News. Councilman Fred Ballew and Councilwoman Jean Fassler voted for the Pacific Tribune, previous holder of the contract.

Mason and Minshew stated they felt obligated to award the contract to the lowest bidder, which was the News.

Mrs. Fassler and Ballew supported the Tribune, claiming its reliability was established.

Most Pacifica citizens became aware of the existence of the News when Kloeppel, who purchased the newspaper this spring, first presented a bid a few weeks ago for the legal advertising contract.

Mason, who confessed to some misgivings after having personally visited the News plant, stage-whispered to the city attorney as he cast his vote: "What if they go out of business?"

Among spectators, there was much talk of political intrigue. One observor said the mayor, Minshew and Mason, who have not been supported politically in the past by the Tribune, were out to encourage its opposition.

The public hearing opened with threats of possible lawsuits involving the city.

Paul Hupf, attorney for the Pacifica Tribune, indicated his client was considering legal action against the News and warned councilmen that if they awarded the contract to the News, they might also become involved in a lawsuit.

Hupf challenged the right of the News to bid, charging the paper did not meet deadlines and was not being regularly published within the city at the time the bid was submitted.

He questioned the validity of the News' claimed circulation figures.

Hupf also produced a copy of the News with the front page missing as a further indication, he said, of the paper's questionable reliability.

Kloeppel, who confessed to some production difficulties, said he would stay up all night if necessary to get the paper out on time.

He also retorted that the circulation figures were of no importance — that it was enough the legal ads be available to those who wished to read them.

Most of the leading Pacificans who spoke on the issue or whose letters were read urged councilmen to award the contract to the Tribune.

Former Councilman Don Miller said it was inconceivable to him that the council could consider awarding the contract to a newspaper just on the scene.

As feelings ran high and State Employ Office Might Open in D.C.

A branch office of the California State Department of Employment may be established in Daly City — depending upon the response to an employment service for teen-agers that will be given a trial run in the next two weeks.

The department will operate the service for teen - agers at Saxe Realty in the Broadmoor Shopping center at Junipero Serra boulevard and 87th street Monday and Tuesday and again on August 12 and 13.

Applications for employment will be accepted from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on these days.

The department will handle not only placements for summer jobs but part time employment in the fall and winter.

The trial run is the outgrowth of an employment service for teen-agers set up this summer by the Daly City - Colma Teen - Age Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Joseph Bavaresco, Post - Times columnist who was the driving force behind the formation of the teen-age chamber, played a key role in interesting the state employment service to come to Daly City.

Bavaresco said a department spokesman has told him that if sufficient interest is shown during the trial run, the state will open a permanent office in Daly City. It would service adults as well as young people.

An office was opened a few years ago but ceased operation because of insufficient interest.

Bavaresco said the employ-

Croman, who joined the board late in the spring, was the last appointment made to the board by the city council. Kafantaris' replacement on the board has not yet been named.

Inspection Tour

INSIDE THE TUNNEL — North San Mateo county sanitation district officials Francis Pacelli and Joseph Verducci, left to right, inspect the district's ocean outfall line inside San Francisco's Lake Merced storm tunnel. The sewage line is being constructed inside the tunnel so that it will be possible to tow it out into the Pacific Ocean in one piece. Conducting the directors on the field trip is Richard C. Aberley of Brown and Caldwell, consulting engineers. (Post-Times Photo)

SANITATION DISTRICT

Board Inspects New Outfall Line

The board of directors of the North San Mateo County Sanitation district journeyed to Thornton beach Monday to inspect construction of a new 2500-foot sewage outfall line.

The line will cost the district almost $350,000.

The tour was conducted by Richard Aberley of Brown and Caldwell, project engineers. Along were Francis Pacelli, chairman of the board of directors; Joseph Verducci, a member and Larry Guiffra, chief plant operator.

The district received a federal grant from the Department of Health, Welfare and Education last year when the State Water Pollution board issued a cease and desist order to the district's plant.

The district's present outfall facility on Thornton beach, built in 1895, is inadequate to handle an increased sewage load and was contaminating the surrounding beaches with debris.

The new outfall line will carry the treated sewage 2500 feet into the ocean where it will be dispersed through "defusers," Aberley explained.

The effect would be like diluting a mixture into millions of gallons of water, he said.

The construction firm of Oscar C. Holmes of Menlo Park is using San Francisco's huge Lake Merced storm tunnel to build the outfall line.

As sections of the line are connected, welded and then treated at the joints, they are pulled into the storm tunnel. When the line is complete, it will be towed out to sea by a barge in one piece.

Only 600 feet of pipe remain to be connected before the towing, which is tentatively planned August 8 or 9.

An added line jutting at an angle from the district's present Vista Grande line will complete the hookup.

Aberley explained some of the tests that are given to the line during the construction phase.

As each section of pipe is con-

Dolwig Raps Brown Veto

State Sen. Richard J. Dolwig, (R-San Mateo county) Monday termed the justification given for Governor Brown's pocket veto of three vital San Mateo county bills "the mouthings of a Humpty Dumpty politician who didn't get his budget put back together again."

Dolwig, who authored the West Bay Rapid Transit act and the bill which would have required a report on a San Mateo state college in 1964, also co-authored with Assemblyman Leo Ryan the bill to create two additional superior court judges in San Mateo county, vetoed by Brown.

"Let it go on the record," Dolwig demanded, "the rotten egg smell from this deal will

School Budget Hearings Set

Public hearings on three North county school district budgets will be held Monday.

The Jefferson Union High school district will hold a hearing at 8 p.m. at its offices at 375 South Mayfair avenue in the Westlake Shopping center.

The Jefferson Elementary school district will hold its hearing at its administrative offices at 101 Lincoln avenue, Daly City, at 8 p.m.

The Laguna Salada school district will hold its hearing at its administrative offices at 375 Reina del Mar, Pacifica, at 8 p.m.

Coast Mulls Fiscal Plan

The Pacifica city council is continuing this week a scrutiny of the city manager's proposed 1963-64 budget.

Councilmen adjourned their last regular meting to August 7, planning to take final action on the budget that night.

If passed, the proposed budget of $1,344,491 would call for a 12½-cent increase in property taxes. Spending would be increased $174,801 or 14.9 per cent over last year's budget.

Last week, heads of the police,

FOR COMPLETION DELAY

Jeff Contractor Agrees to Pay $1500 Damages

The contractor for reconstruction of Jefferson High school will be assessed $1500 in damages for failure to complete the building on time, it was learned this week.

District Superintendent Edward Morgan reported that the James Roberts company, meeting with school officials last Thursday, indicated they would accept the damage charge.

The $1500 figure represents salary of the school district's building inspector, Philip Phillips, for approximately six weeks.

Morgan said these were the only damages the school district actually felt justified in claiming.

He said a delay in pupil housing, feared at the time the board was protesting the contractors' delays, had not materialized.

All furniture and equipment was moved into the new building at the close of school and there was no delay in the start of the demolition of the old school buildings, according to Morgan.

Trustees granted several extensions of time to the contractor when he reported numerous delays in completing work on the building.

When the company was finally called before trustees and his performance criticized, he cited various troubles—including problems with subcontractors, delay in the arrival of equipment and furnishings and vandalism.

Irritated with the situation, the board decided in May to accept no further delays and to reserve the right to assess damages against the contractor.

Neext week, trustees will be asked to approve a change order, setting the date from which the damages will be computed.

Board president Elio Fontana, clerk Mrs. Anna Eason and Morgan inspected the Jefferson building with the architect last Wednesday.

Morgan reported the building

Assistant Fire Chief Job Slated

A definition of duties for a new position of assistant fire chief was adopted at a special meeting Thursday by the Daly City personnel board.

A promotional exam will be given in September. The position will probably be filled in October, according to Willis Hawley, assistant to the city manager.

The test, with written and oral portions, will be drawn up by county personnel services, an organ of the state personnel board, Hawley said.

Mayor Joseph Verducci said the council decided three years ago to create the position and began an in-service training program to get department personnel ready for the post.

Verducci said the city has been working with the College of San Mateo in operating a training program for both fire and police personnel. Hawley has also been working with the training of the officers.

Three battalion chiefs and four captains recently completed a course in municipal fire administration conducted by the International Association of City Managers.

Minimum qualifications for the promotional exam are seven years experience in fire fighting

City to Annex Police Station

By RON BATES

Daly City, busy with annexing populous Bayshore City and discussing annexing the extensive Christen Ranch lands, took time out last week to consider a small annexation — one city block and portions of two others.

The annexation includes the headquarters of the only remaining active police district in in the state of California — the Broadmoor police district.

A public hearing on the annexation, named the Pedemonte annexation after Gus Pedemonte, owner of the Cypress Hills golf course and a major property owner in the area, is set for September 10.

The annexation puts Broadmoor police in the unique position of having to call Daly City police to file a report in the event the station was burglarized. The officers can't even investigate an accident in front of the station.

Police Chief Ray Savage says he sees no problem in operating from within the corporate limits of Daly City to patrol the unincorporated area of Broadmoor.

"They already own the property directly across from the station," he said.

Savage said he doesn't know what the three-man police commission in Broadmoor will de-

Plane Crash Proves False

Daly City and Brisbane police, and sheriff's deputies Monday night combed San Bruno mountain in a thick fog after a report a light plane might have crashed and burned. No evidence of any plane crash was found.

Daly City policemen were still hunting Tuesday morning, as the fog began to clear. It was impossible to check out many ravines because of the fog. However, they were increasingly skeptical of the possibility of any crash.

The police departments were alerted by the Airport tower and by the sheriff's department at about 8:30 p.m. Monday, they reported, as to the possible crash. Some evidence of a fire on the mountain side appeared to have prompted the calls.

Brisbane authorities said that in addition to the alerting, three teen-aged youths contacted them and said that they had seen what appeared to have been a plane crash high on the mountain, near the NBC radio tower, and that they had tried to reach the scene but gave up when their car broke down.

Big Assist For Golfer

James Fair, Westmoor High golfer, will be teeing off this afternoon in the National Junior Golf championships in Florence, S. C., due to the generosity of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary club.

Chamber president Bernard "Bud" Lycett said the chamber was donating a good share of the expense of sending the 17-year-old golfer to the tournament. Rotary members chipped in with $25.

SURPRISED SENIOR CITIZEN

'Why Write About Me?'

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last in a series of articles about two senior citizen organizations in Daly City and Pacifica and some of the key members in each group.)

By LOUANNE HEATH

UNASSUMING is the key word in any description of Mrs. Beatrice Batz, president of the Daly City Senior Citizens club and a Daly City citizen extraordinary.

Mrs. Batz was frankly bewildered when interviewed in her beautiful new Westlake apartment at 355 South Mayfair avenue almost directly across the street from the Community Baptist church, meeting place of the club.

"Are you sure you want to write about me," she asked. "I mean, will anyone be interested? You knew there are so many others who would have far more interesting stories to tell.

"My brother, Robert Ceiley, is a good one to write about because he has received so many medals and awards for the things he did when he was a fireman in San Francisco."

Ceiley is a regular and active member of the Daly City group headed by his sister. He assists her with leading community singing at the meetings.)

MRS. BEATRICE BATZ works on one of her favorite pastimes—crocheting. Sewing and crocheting are just two of many interests this busy president of the Daly City Senior Citizens' club maintains. (Post-Times photo.)

"Or," she continued, "you might get in touch with Mrs. Cleora Reed, she belongs to our group and I understand that she taught piano for over 50 years. She played for us once and it was just wonderful."

MODESTY ASIDE, Mrs. Batz is a forceful woman who has

ADDING A SEGMENT—A huge crane lifts a segment of the new ocean sewage outfall line into position on the Thornton Beach construction site as members of the board of directors of the North San Mateo county sanitation district look on (lower right). The directors took a field trip to the site to see what they're spending almost $350,000 for. The section will be welded on to the line and then pulled back into San Francisco's huge Lake Merced storm tunnel. (Post-Times photo)

nected and welded, it is X-rayed. The negatives are developed on the job.

"So far, no flaws have been found," he said.

The sections are then given a vacuum test to see if they can stand pressure from within.

The sections of pipe have travelled throughout the state, Aberley said. The steel pipe was built in Fontana, then sent to Wilmington for special linings and then to the American Pipe company in Hayward for finishing.

Because the Lake Merced tunnel is located on the beach, the pipe is unloaded near Fleischhacker pool and then dragged along the beach by a bulldozer to the construction site near Thornton beach.

A huge crane lifts the sections into position. Once the sections are joined, the crane pulls the line back into the tunnel by means of a pulley.

still be around to greet our illustrious governor the next time he comes to San Mateo county to ask the people for votes.

Ridiculous

"Brown's reasoning for the pocket veto is completely ridiculous. I am sure he is just trying to get even for the fact I opposed him on the withholding tax scheme that was so dear to his heart."

Dolwig derided Brown's statement that he voted the transit bill because it would be better for the Bay Area to solve its transit problems on an area-wide basis as being "completely out of touch with reality."

FOR EMERGENCY SERVICE

Agreement Nears With UC Hospital

A shortage of emergency hospital facilities in the North county may be alleviated soon.

The county is awaiting approval from the board of regents of the University of California Medical center in San Francisco of an agreement to provide emergency service to North county residents.

And in an allied development, Dr. Alfred Marquez, new owner-operator of the former Junipero Serra hospital, said that emergency service will be made available about a month after the hospital is moved from its present Briggs street location to a new location on Hill street in Colma.

Board of supervisor approval for the hospital became effective July 18.

Hospital and county officials said the agreement with U.S. is "very close" with only minor details to be worked out.

The board of regents of U.S. hospital, which has to give final approval of the agreement, does not formally meet until September 20.

Daly City officials were stymied last year in efforts to obtain emergency service in San Francisco when they were notified that Junipero Serra hospital would have to be closed in March.

The San Francisco hospitals are tax supported and are permitted to handle only San Francisco residents.

The U. C. Medical center is a private hospital, however, and does not fall into this category.

Complete services will be provided by the new Mary's Help hospital in southern Daly City, but completion of the hospital isn't expected until April of 1965.

In the meantime, emergency cases have been taken to Kaiser Foundation hospital in South San Francisco or Peninsula hospital in Burlingame

Marquez said he hopes to have a complete staff lined up by the time his hospital is ready for business.

Moving of the building is expected to take place "in the very near future," he said.

The building will not house overnight patients. Rooms that formerly housed patients will be used for physicians' offices, he said.

Marquez, a surgeon, now has offices at 2441 Ocean avenue in San Francisco. He is a member of the teaching staff at Mary's Help hospital.

looked good and the trustees were pleased. At the board's meeting Monday, the architects, Falk and Booth, will recommend that the board formally accept the building.

The new Jefferson High school, with an expected enrollment of 650 students, is due to be completed tomorrow.

Some final last-minute delays were reported by the contractor because of vandalism. A number of broken windows and doors scarred by knives had to be replaced.

and prevention work with three years in a responsible supervisory capacity at the rank of captain or higher.

In the present table of organization, Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy, is assisted by three battalion chiefs who hold equal rank. They are Frank Specht, Wayne Alexander and Mel Hansen.

"Because fire-fighting is an around the clock operation, the council felt there should be a number two man," Hawley said.

The assistant fire chief will assume complete control of the department in the absence of the chief. He also will assist in the daily planning, organizing and direction of the department.

He will report to the scene of all fires and assume command in the absence of the chief.

The new position has a salary range of $809 to $936 a month.

fire, public works and park and recreation departments presented their requests for additional funds and listed their needs.

Police Chief Neil Tremaine is asking for $5665 for a new patrolman and $4536 for additional allowance for overtime and holiday pay for police officers.

Renovation of an old World War II bunker near the National Guard Nike site is in this years' proposed budget.

A total of $2000 of the cost is allocated to the police department since it is planned to use the bunker as a police headquarters and temporary jail."

Another $916 is needed to equip the bunker with police radio equipment.

The Pacifica Fire department, under Chief Ed Greer, is asking for an additional $18,214, or a 12 per cent increase in spending — with most of it for additional overtime and holiday pay.

The sewage treatment division is asking for more than double last year's allotment—a budget of $180,831 — as opposed to last year's $80,828.

The personnel board has been asked to study the city manager's plan and submit a decision to the ciyt council.

lead the senior citizens group for the past four terms and is still enthusiastic and full of ideas for the future.

Her capability and guidance are evident at club meetings and even in her own home. When she speaks of the club it is with a positive and vigorous tone that clearly indicates that here is a woman dedicated to doing all she can for others.

"When I first lost my husband, I was lonesome, terribly lonesome," Mrs. Batz recalled. "I began looking for a place where I could fit in and become a part of things again. I visited around to a great number of churches but none of them seemed very friendly until I went to the Community Baptist church."

"I'm not a Baptist but I went to this church looking for something. I went in one Sunday and sat down next to a woman about my age. After the service she turned to me and said, 'Am I new here or are you?'. She was so friendly I felt very much at home.

"Later I learned this lady was one of the pillars in the church. She got me interested in the activities and through her I learned of the Senior Citizens group, which uses the church basement for weekly meetings. This was just what I had hoped to find!"

When Mrs. Batz first joined the group, it was still in its formative stages. During the past months, membership has mushroomed to over 80 with an average attendance of between 40 and 50 members.

This growing membership has led to some disagreement within the group over the limitation of size.

"There are some," Mrs. Batz stated frankly, "that would like to say we will only allow so many people belong. But that will never happen while I have anything to do with the group!"

"Why, we might say no to someone who needs us desperately and I'm not going to take any responsibility for closing a door in the face of someone who needs help."

DESPITE THE busy schedule she must maintain in connection with rer senior citizens' activities, Mrs. Batz also is actively involved in the missionary work of her adopted church home.

She attends morning and evening services and prayer meetings regularly. She pays a monthly visit to a Peninsula senior citizens home where she teaches the women to sew, knit, crochet, or she simply sits and visits with lonesome residents.

"A man once told me he thought it was wonderful for us to go down there and give some time and encouragement to those people. I told him they didn't get as much from us as they give. I love to go down there and I look forward to it every month. It is just a wonderful experience," Mrs. Batz said.

WHEN NOT busy working or planning for the future, Mrs. Batz occupies her spare time with cooking and canning fresh fruit, putting up jams and jellies, baking for herself or her friends, reading or doing fancy work.

Though she insists that she has retired from professional knitting, her apartment is packed with examples of her handiwork. When pressed for details, she admitted to still doing work for herself and her family.

She displayed five knit dresses she had made for herself and the matching jewelry she had made to wear with the ensembles.

"There isn't much to tell about me," she concluded. "When you are alone you just have to adjust and keep going and that is all that I am doing."

Which is enough, her friends agree, to keep most people younger than she busy around the clock seven days a week.

cide to do about the station, but the department is not protesting Daly City's move.

The police commission, composed of chairman Louis Mannis, treasurer Vincent Murphy and secretary Harry Brown, are elected by residents. Each year, one of them is elected for a three-year term.

Broadmoor found out it had the last remaining active police district in unincorporated areas three years ago when it tried to mobilize support against a bill to abolish police districts in California.

The measure was introduced by Assemblyman Clark Bradley of Santa Clara.

When Savage and the commissioners found out the bill would affect only them, they got in touch with Bradley and gave him a tour of the area.

Bradley subsequently amended his bill to prohibit districts from being formed in the future, but commended the Broadmoor force for its work.

He said his intent was to eliminate districts that were technically still in existence but not doing anything for the taxpayers.

"Where the annexation does hurt us, however," Savage said, "is in taking assessed valuation away from us."

The police district can only assess the Broadmoor property owners one half of one per cent.

Savage has four officers and a dispatcher to help him patrol the Broadmoor area. They are George Carleton, Merrill Baxley, Charles Manning, and Al Nickas. The dispatcher is Mrs. Jean Keller.

The force is supplemented by 16 reserve officers and one police dog.

However, he said the district is not obligated by law, as is the city council, to calls for bids and award a contract to the successful bidder.

Pacific Parade

By DON MILLER

FIVE MONTHS and 23 days ago today, a dark-haired 13-year-old Daly City youth left Colma school at the end of classes and walked to his home at 72 Teresa street.

He entered the house, said hello to his mom and went to his room to change into tennis shoes, blue jeans, black shirt and a navy blue sweatshirt. Then he went outside and began watering the grass in the backyard.

A few minutes later, his mother heard the front door slam and looked out the window and saw her son running up the street toward a group of boys.

She hollered and waved—for he was to have gone shopping with her.

That was Feburary 8, 1963. The youth, Wayne Rory Silber, has not been seen or heard from since.

His disappearance has totally mystified not only his sorrowful family but Daly City police as well who have exhausted every slim lead in their search.

At first, Wayne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Silber, believed their son couldn't have traveled far, for to the best of their knowledge, he had no money with him.

WAYNE RORY SILBER

"We all had played pinochle the night before—we usually play for pennies — and Wayne said he didn't have any money," his father says.

A thorough search of the home by the parents and his brother, Robert, a June graduate of Jefferson High school, disclosed that Wayne had taken nothing with him except the clothes he was wearing.

As the mystery lengthened into weeks instead of days and every lead ended in a blind alley, a cold fear swept the Silber family that Wayne had met foul play.

In mid-April, five weeks after the youth had disappeared, three separate and intensive searches were mounted by Boy Scouts, Daly City police and jail trustees under the supervision of sheriff's deputies.

They scoured the Crocker Hills, poked through the brush on the west side of the San Bruno mountains and even extended their hunt into South San Francisco.

A few days later, a Daly City police squad combed vacant houses, awaiting demolition, along the Junipero Serra freeway route.

The searchers failed to turn up a clue to Wayne's disappearance.

ALONG THE WAY, the Silbers hired a firm of private detectives to search for their son but in two weeks of investigation, the private eyes failed to come up with a lead.

In fact, LaBruzzo says, they failed to come up with as much information as Daly City police.

On July 4, what at last looked like the first break in the case came when a probation officer in a Nevada town notified Daly City authorities by teletype that he had in his custody a youth, generally matching Wayne's description, who was carrying a newspaper clipping about Wayne's disappearance.

The boy was a runaway and was traveling in the company of a 21-year-old woman.

Daly City police immediately fired off a telegram to the Nevada official and followed it up with a batch of pictures and more information.

From this material, the official quickly determined the runaway youth was not Wayne. For one thing, the youth had freckles. Wayne does not.

The youth, it eventually was determined, was from Kansas and had clipped the newspaper article from a Kansas City paper.

The news that this break was just another false start hit the Silbers hard. Wayne's father, a milkman, says:

"We haven't heard a thing or seen anything of or about Wayne since that day five and a half months ago. The whole thing is such a mystery. If he had planned to run away, he would have taken some things.

"But he didn't and that's why today I fear for my son's life. If we knew he had run away, we would at least think he's safe."

The father recalls that prior to Wayne's disappearance, his son appeared to be getting edgy. "There was a change in his attitude toward school. He seemed to take a 'why should I care' attitude."

ALTHOUGH the Silbers understandably have grave doubts about the well-being of their son, their pessimism isn't shared by LaBruzzo who has handled hundreds of runaway cases as a police officer.

LaBruzzo recalls the case of a 14-year-old Daly City boy who two years ago ran away from home and disappeared without a trace for ten months.

He had left home wearing a cast over a broken arm and his teeth in braces.

At the end of ten months, the youth reappeared just as suddenly as he had left.

"He came back with the arm healed, his braces off and money in the bank," LaBruzzo says. "The boy just wanted to show his parents that he could make it on his own."

The youth told police he had settled in a town in Kansas, obtained a job and had got along well with authorities there — including the sheriff's department which had, ironically, like other law enforcement agencies received a circular about the boy's disappearance.

Since their son disappeared, the Silbers have received at least one cruel telephone call.

"It sounded like a teen-ager and he said that 'if you want to find your son, I'll show you where he's buried'."

That's pretty rough talk for a family that can't find their son.

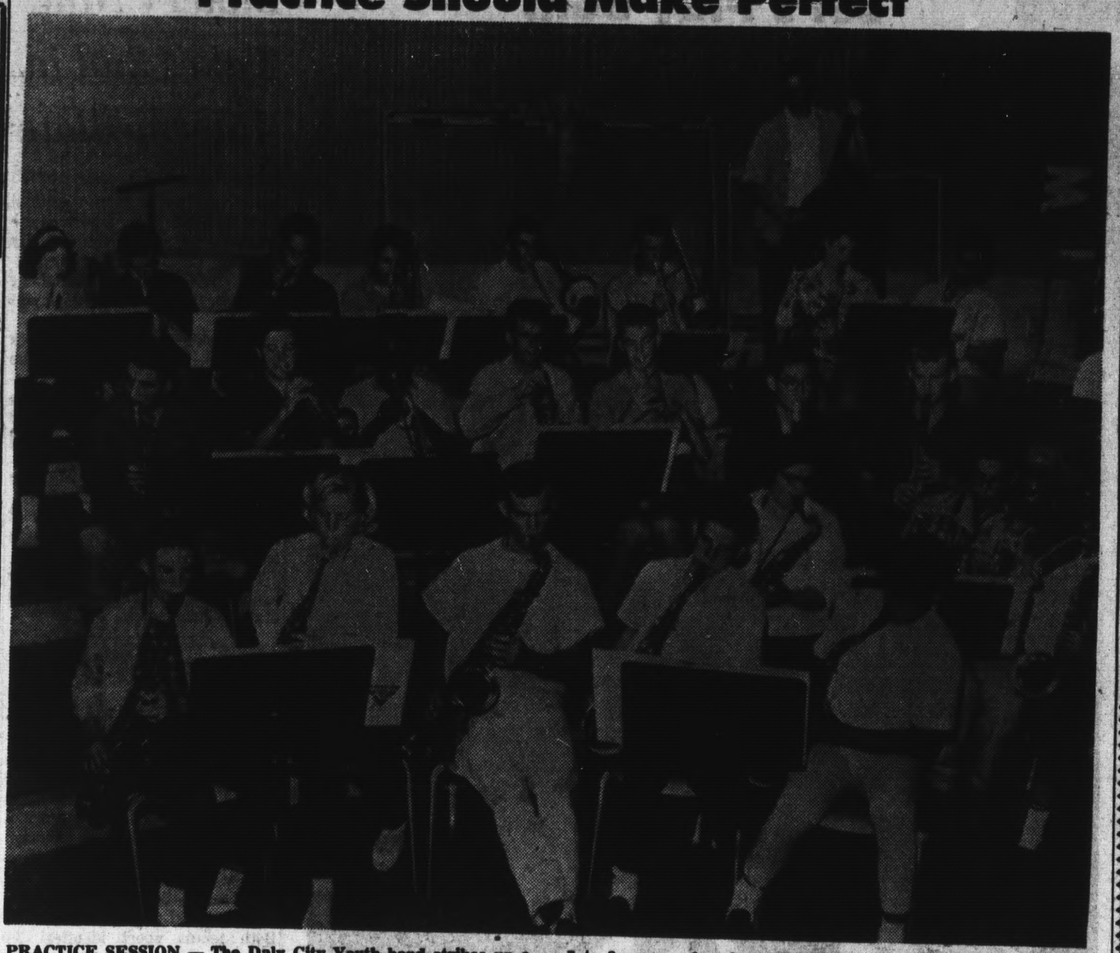
As the father puts it:

"This is just something you have to go on living with, day after day. It's pretty frustrating because you just can't do anything but hope."

Last week, Silber and his wife were still hoping as they celebrated their 21st wedding anniversary.

It was a pretty hollow celebration. With a son missing, it couldn't have been otherwise.

Practice Should Make Perfect



PRACTICE SESSION — The Daly City Youth band strikes up a tune in one of its regular practice sessions on Tuesdays at the Westmoor High school band room. The Youth band plays from 7 to 8 p.m. and a dance band from 8 to 9 p.m. The program is co-sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department and the Westlake Music center. (Post-Times photo)

YOUNGSTERS ARE ENTHUSIASTIC

River City Will Have Nothing On Daly City's New Youth Band

DALY CITY'S going to have a rousing youth band.

And if practice continues the way it has been to date, the River City boys' band of "Music Man" fame will have nothing on the local junior bandsmen.

Charles Vincent, head of the city's recreation department, said that if interest currently being shown in a band is maintained throughout the remainder of the summer, the youth band may continue on a year-around basis.

The current program is co-sponsored by the recreation department and the Westlake Music center.

The youth band mets every Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Westmoor High school band room undeer the tutelage of instructor Howard Loeffler.

A dance band, composed of several members of the youth band, takes over for the second half of a two hour session.

"This is the first time, to my knowledge, that anything like this has been tried in Daly City," Vincent said.

From all indications, it appears to be a success.

"Even with vacations, the attendance has been around 30," Loeffler said. "The kids seem to want this. I think it's a fine thing for Daly City."

Loeffler said he had the opportunity to see something like it in action in Robbinsdale, Minnesota, near Minneapolis. The city had a municipal band that was "very well received by everyone."

UNLIKE THE River City boys' band, the Daly City group has not barred the opposite sex.

Nine girls share music stands with 30 boys in the youth band and three girls perform with 28 boys in the dance band.

"The majority of the youths have had some basic instruction in music," Vincent said, "but it is a mixture of beginning and advanced students."

He added the band's purpose is to provide relaxation and cultural training.

"The kids are very enthusiastic," Loeffler said. "I have to start chasing them out about 9:30 p.m. They just don't want to go."

He said he thought the program had been planned for the fall. A mix-up in signals occurred and by the time all the publicity was out, it was too late to stop the start of practice.

"I was really surprised at the summer response," he said.

Vincent said parents of the young musicians are pleased with the band also.

One mother told him she was having a rough time getting her youngster to take any interest in his music at all. Now her son can hardly wait until Tuesdays.

DALY CITY residents will have an opportunity to see and hear the bands perform at the end of the summer rpogram when the department holds a "summer roundup."

Vincent said he ho[illegible] a program with a[illegible] the teen drama [illegible] tions by the creat[illegible] tumbling classes and [illegible] ances by the two bands.

If the band program proves successful, the department is considering forming a ukelele band.

Loeffler credits much of the success of the band to Robert Morford, owner of the co-sponsoring Westlake Music center.

Morford has advertised the band and has been recruiting new members at his store in the Westlake Shopping center.

"He hands me a list of names or telephone numbers to call just about every time I come in," Loeffler said.

Loeffler said he hopes to discourage the marching aspect of a municipal band.

"We have two high schools to take care of that."

The uniforms for such a group would cost around $6000. As the band is operated now, the expenditure by the city is relatively low.

The youngsters provide their own instruments and the band uses the high school's music library.

IF THE youth band is con[illegible] the city will have "something for everyone" insofar as music is concerned, Loeffler pointed out. The adult school offers orchestra instruction in the fall.

Loeffler has been teaching for about ten years—five years in Oakland and five in Daly City.

He majored in clarinet and voice for two years at the University of Minnesota and three and a half years at San Francisco State college.

He has taught everything from elementary school to high school and is the "music man" at Westmoor High when he teaches band, orchestra, dance band and choral work.

He also takes time out from a busy schedule to direct the church choir at Bethlehem Lutheran church in Pacific Heights.

Fishing With Stone, Knife

One way to catch a fish, two Daly City youngsters found out last week, was to stun the prey with a stone.

Gene Barrona and Tom Alexander pulled a three-foot bass from San Francisco Bay while on an outing to Angel Island, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department.

The boys had stunned the bass with a stone, then stabbed it with a pocket knife.

Girl Breaks Arm in Fall

Seven-year-old Teresa Norton, daughter of Post-Times food columnist, Nell Norton, broke her left arm last week when she fell while roller skating near the Norton home at 9 Baldwin avenue, Daly City.

The youngster was taken to Kaiser Foundation hospital in San Francisco and her arm placed in a cast.

Medical-Dental Center Is Planned in Pacifica

Two Pacifica physicians and a dentist are planning to build a medical-dental center on Crespi drive just east of the Central Food market.

Application for a permit to build on the site of 600 Crespi drive will be made at a Pacifica planning commission meeting Monday by Dr. Norman Green, Jerome Diamond and Olen Obuhoff.

Dr. Diamond said this week that the group hoped to build a complete center, possibly an 8000-foot, two-story or split level building on the one-half acre lot.

He said the center would have a number of doctors offering a complete range of specialties and a clinical laboratory.

IF THE LATE, demented "$64,000 Question" were still on television and they still had a baseball category, Marvin Ison, a San Mateo resident, would probably run the producers out of money sooner than the cribbing scandals did.

Ison, you see, is a rarity in this world — a baseball fan who knows what he's talking about.

A follower of the game since the days of knickers, he has a collection of baseball record books and magazines (Spalding Guides, for instance, dating back to 1901) which would probably sell for several thousand dollars on the collectors' market.

Marvin first came to our attention in early May when he confidently predicted that the Dodgers — who seemed to be collapsing at this time — would win the pennant.

He attributed his confidence to the strong Dodger pitching, shored up by the definite successful comeback of Sandy Koufax; better bench than the Giants, and to the statistical unlikeliness that Jack Sanford and Billy Pierce could again win 40 between them.

Ison also feels, however, that the Giants could win with men like either Walt Alston or Leo Durocher at the helm.

"Dark was great shortstop and is a fine, knowledgable baseball man," says Giant fan Ison objectively, "and he could probably win with another type team. After all, all managers know just about as much about baseball.

"The important thing is the way they handle men. As a fan, I just don't believe that Dark can handle the players he has on the Giants. I believe he's a little too soft to deal with the apparent personality problems on the Giants."

Ison indicates that the Giants didn't win last year so much as the Dodgers lost.

"The Dodgers blew it. The Giants didn't make a comeback. Even in that last week (of the season), the Giants lost a couple."

A nut on statistics, Ison figures (his calculations would take a book to reproduce) that the Giants should have won more easily last year, especially with Koufax out for half the year.

CURRENTLY convalescing from a long illness at his home, Ison has had more time to indulge in one of his favorite projects — rating all-time greats.

His rating system bunches moderns and old-timers together by a lengthy statistical method of combining both batting and fielding statistics (for non-pitchers), and giving equal weight, for instance, to both sacrifice bunts and homeruns.

"In this way," he says, "the significance of the bunt and the little guy in the dead-ball era retains its relative value, just as does the significance of the big guy and the homerun in the live-ball era. The top glove man has a chance to rate equal in value with the all-thumbs-afield cleanup batter."

Using this method, Ison offers this list of the top ten all time greats (pitchers not included), with a footnote that Babe Ruth was hampered for a good five years by being the greatest left-handed pitcher in the game: (1) Ty Cobb (2) Stan Musial (3) Tris Speaker (4) Eddie Collins (5) Babe Ruth (6) Lou Gehrig (7) Mel Ott (8) Ted Williams (9) Jimmy Fox (10) Paul Waner.

"If Musial could last a couple more years," says Ison, "he'd probably pass Cobb."

ONLY CATCH to Ison's rating system, which he is continually revising as moderns move up, is that a player has to play about 16 years before he compiles enough points to make the top ten.

"This is not really a catch, though," he says. "What better test of true, genuine greatness than longevity?"

He does admit that his system virtually eliminates true greats such as injury-jinxed players Joe DiMaggio and Mickey Mantle.

"Not every system's perfect. But DiMaggio and Mantle are in the top 30 in my breakdown of greats, position-by-position."

In this position-by-position breakdown, Ison finds moderns moving up every year. In pitching, Early Wynn and Warren Spahn stand fourth and fifth. Yogi Berra is tied for second place with Bill Dickey behind Gabby Hartnett.

Gil Hodges rates tenth for first tackers, while Gil Mcdougald and Nellie Fox are in the top ten for keystone men. Ernie Banks rates tenth among shortstops while recently retired Eddie Yost is tied for fourth with Stan Hack — with seventh place Eddie Mathews moving up fast, in the third-base rating.

Ison says that the position which shows the most clear-cut domination is second base.

"Rogers Hornsby, Frankie Frisch, Charley Gehringer, Eddie Collins and Nap Lajoie are clearly the greatest second basemen of all time with no moderns about to move in on them for a long, long time.

"If Bobby Doerr, who retired at only 33 with a bad back, had been able to hang in for a few more years, he might have been close in there. So might have been Joe Gordon, had he played more than 11 years."

Ison has many other interesting observations — but I'm not about to divulge them — not until next time I have a column to fill.

REFERRING back to Ison's comment that the Dodgers blew the pennant last year, let's keep in mind that the Giants blew one to the Dodgers in 1959 and we might come up with a predictable pattern.

POOR RODGER CRAIG, the Mets' ace in reverse, probably won't even have the satisfaction, this year, of setting a record for games lost. As of this writing, he's lost only 17, and if he continues at his present pace, he'll wind up with only 27.

This is far off the pace of 48, set by John H. Coleman for the Phillies in 1883. Rog does, however, have a heckuva chance to grab the modern baseball record. He has only to contend with Vic Willis' 29 for the Braves in 1905.

If the Mets keep plugging, Roger has a chance. I mean, if John H. Coleman hadn't been so negative, he never would have reached immortality. He was a 23 game winner — but it took him eight years to do it.

Let's Play Ball!

GIANT DONATION—Batter Larry Belfrage, 133 East Vista avenue, and catcher Phil Purganan, 89 Muirwood drive, try out some of the equipment purchased by the Daly City Recreation department with a $300 donation from the San Francisco Giants. The donation is for the promotion of "sand lot" baseball within the Daly City area. The new equipment is being used for a Farm league composed of boys under 11 years of age. The umpire is Recreation Department head Charles Vincent. (Post-Times photo.)

AT GOLDEN GATE

DC Pair Win Dad-Son Title

The Daly City father and son team of George and Jim Fair stroked their way to a 1-up victory in the 13th Annual Roos/Atkins Father and Son Golf championship at Golden Gate Park Snuady.

The Fairs left shortly after the victory for Florence S.C., where Jim will compete in the National Junior championships this afternoon.

The duo jumped to an early lead in their match with favorites Beernard and Brad Lozares. By the eighteenth hole, the Fairs were three up and gained another stroke on the twenty-seventh.

The Lozares cut the four-up advantage to one by the thirty-fourth hole where the elder Oozares missed a two-foot putt that would have tied the match.

The Fairs played it safely for the final two holes and walked off with the victory.

The Lozares were medalists for the tournament when they fired a 58 to qualify.

The Fairs on the other hand, were one of eight teams who had a qualifying 63. Their names were drawn from a hat to continue playing.

They pulled another major upset in defeating the Aragonas, Bill Jr. and Sr., 5-3 in a semi-final match.

The Daly City duo were medalists in the tourney last year.

Jim Fair, who has been Westmoor High's number one man on the golf team for the past two seasons, showed spectators championship class in contest.

Both father and son think that Sunday's win should give Jim added confidence in the national tournament.

Fair also made the semi-finals of the San Francisco City Junior championships at Lincoln Park two weeks ago. He was beaten by one stroke by the winner John Miller.

NEW YORK — The United States has been beaten only three times in Olympic decathlons — 1912 by Sweden; 1920 by Norway, and 1928 by Finland. Rafer Johnson gave the U. S. its seventh decathlon triumph in the 1960 games at Rome.

NEW YORK — Big Bill Tilden won the U. S. Tennis championship six times and was beaten in the finals on three other occasions.

Bakery Nine Takes 2nd in Intermediate

Three clubs last week battled for second place in the final standings of the Intermediate Baseball league, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department, before Relish Bakery emerged the victor in a playoff series.

The bakery nine turned back the Bender Roofers behind the no-hit pitching of Vic Yerby. Earlier, the Roofers downed Ben Ben Franklin to advance to the deciding game. Bakery had drawn a bye in the first round.

Yerby helped out his own cause in the deciding game by collecting two hits. Gary Stang and Gary Soules backed him up with two hits each.

The PAL Dodgers won the league championship at the end of the regular season.

Teams Tied In Cage Play

The Clippers and Celtics have emerged as top contenders in the Long division of the summer high school basketball league, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department.

Last week, the Celtics downed the Rascals, 54-39, while the Clippers dumped the Whalers, 86-60. Both teams sport identical 2-0 records.

In Short division play, the Knights and Hawks remain undefeated after three weeks of play. Last week, the Knights beat the Nats, 33-25 and the Hawks turned back the Challengers, 27-23.

O'Brien Golf Entries Taken

Applications are now being taken for the fourteenth annual O'Brien Junior Golf tournament, to be held at the San Mateo Municipal Golf course Monday and Tuesday.

Head pro Tom Fry said that the entry blanks are available at all golf courses in the area. Entries, which have a $1 fee, close today.

NORTH COUNTY SPORT SCENE

New Format Scheduled in Country Golf Tournament

For the first time in history, the championship flight of the San Mateo county golf tournament will be contested over 72 holes medal play, San Mateo municipal golf course pro Tom Fry has announced.

The new format for the tournament, which had previously been entirely held on match play, was adopted to allow championship flight players to finish the tournament in a shorter time, two weeks, instead of four plus qualifying.

With the new format, Fry stated that Bobby Lunn, the San Francisco youth who won the National Publinx title at Sacramento and the county tournament defending champion, may be able to compete again this year.

It was previously reported that other commitments would preclude the youngster's play.

The first round of the championship flight will be held on Saturday, September 21, when the field will be cut to 32 players and ties.

The flight's second round will be held on the following day, cutting the field to 16 players.

These 16 players will then compete over 18 holes on the following Saturday and Sunday.

Other flights will play as they have in the past, with qualifying scheduled from August 10 through September 2.

Also, there will be weekly prizes of $25 in the doubles and $15 in the singles.

A big 231 game by J. Davis helped him to a 575 total, which topped the Golden Gate Handicap for the week.

In the Tuesday morning Trio league, Carmen Lewetzou took both high game and high series honors as she bowled 158 and 441.

Polly Tate and Ed Johnson were the week's leaders in the Southgate Mixed Fives as Polly shot 148 and 470 while Ed posted a terrific 253 game and 617 series.

In addition to free daily classes at 5:15 p.m., there are free classes Mondays and Tuesdays at 10 a.m., Thursdays at 2 p.m. and Fridays at 1 p.m. A phone call to Rick Dreier at PL 615777 will reserve a spot in any of the groups.

Serra Bowl

By FRED HOFFMAN

ART MICHAEL topped the 810 Scratch league this week with a nifty 235 high game as he led his Ed Michaels team to a 3-0 sweep over the Easter five. Jaw Morrow pasted 233—576 for individual high series honors while pacing his team, Flying Goose Sporting Goods, to a 2-1 win over the Joe Brandi group.

This week was a big one for high scores in the ladies afternoon 300 Double league. Ellie Torrigino took top scores with her 213-564 shooting as her Team 6 defeated Team 5 by a margin of 2½-½. Millie Welling tallied 223—562 to lead Team 4 to a 3-0 trumph over Team 3. Henrietta Scheer bagged 216—531 for Team 5 in a 2-1 losing effort against Team 10 in a late make-up game.

Jim Leatherberry tossed a classy 229—566 to lead the Junior-Senior Boys Handicap league Saturday morning.

WITH THE approach of the '63-'64 Fall bowling seoson there is, indeed, no time like the present to get in on the fun by learning the game and joining a league. For information regarding Serra's free "Learn to Bowl" instruction program, call WY 2-3444 and ask for Fred Hoffman.

At a glance, it looks as if Mike Valenzano's 242 game midway in his 572 series was high effort in the Gamblers league last week.

L and S Auto Wreakers took 3 out of 4 points from team 3 this week in 750 Masters action. Selu Silifaiva led the winners with a 233—545 series while Al Keoesyan's 574 was high for the losers. Walt Kimpel was high roller in the entire loop with a 235—575 tally.

Saints Win First Round In Tri-City

The San Francisco Saints are winners of the first round in the Tri-City Summer Baseball league, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department.

The Balieff Construction nine of South San Francisco forfeited its last game to the Saints, thus insuring the leaders a perfect 5-0 record.

In Sunday's action, the Jefferson A.C. club behind the three-hit pitching of Frank King scored a 5-1 victory ovr South Sunset AC to finish in second place with a 4-1 overall record.

Dan Caffaretta paced the Jeff nine-hit attack with a perfect three for three at the plate. Caffaretta's two-run triple broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth inning as the Mission street nine went on to a four-run sixth inning.

King helped his own attack with a two for four day at the plate. Jerry Benson also contributed two hits to his team's cause.

The Saint defeat places them in fourth place with a 2-33 record for first round play.

In Sunday's final game, the big bats of Westmoor AC downed El Camino AC, 15-5.

Corky Phelps bagged three hits, including a double. Mike Krnich collected two hits and three runs-batted in and Bob Brodie hit a bases-loaded double.

Coast Given Giant Funds

The Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation department was one of many recreation departments on the Peninsula which received a $300 donation from the San Francisco Giants for the promotion of sand-lot baseball in the community.

In Pacifica, the baseball coordinating committee recommended to the Park, Beach and Recreation commission that the donation be equally divided between Little league, Babe Ruth league, the Pacifica Lions and John Kelly's team.

Equipment purchased through this donation included bats, balls, catcher's mask, catcher's mitt, leg guards, sox and jerseys.

Little League Tourney Ready

Pacifica this week will become the Little league baseball capital of this area of the state from Salinas northward to San Francisco.

A three-day sectional tournament will be played at White Field to determine a representative to the Northern California Little league finals.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Mell Norton

THE WAYS of fixing pork chops are many and the results delicious. For pork chops are a favorite with most people and they appear on the menu frequently. Mrs. John Norton of 2243 Twenty-seventh avenue, San Francisco, tells me that she browns them and then places them in a baking dish, spoons applesauce over each and covers and bakes until tender in the oven.

The following recipe is a favorite with Mrs. Lucille Henderson of 428 Mariposa drive, South San Francisco. It is surely a de luxe version of pork chops, combining interesting seasonings and vegetables.

VIENNESE PORK CHOPS

4 pork chops (1-3 pound each)
Flour
3 Tbsp. lard or butter
½ chopped carrot
1 stalk chopped celery
1 chopped onion
2 gherkins (small, sweet pickles)
2 large sliced mushrooms
1 sliced frankfurter
1 clove of garlic (chopped)
1 teas. caraway seed
Salt and pepper to taste
Stock to cover
2 tomatoes, halved
2 potatoes, peeled and sliced

Pound the pork chops with the side of a saucer, sprinkle with salt and caraway seed. Dredge in flour and brown in shortening. Remove and place in baking dish. In the same fat, fry the carrot, celery, onion, mushroom and pickle. Add the frankfurter and rest of seasonings (garlic, salt and pepper).

Place potatoes and tomatoes in layers on top of chops, then fried vegetables on top. Add stock to cover, use either consomme or bouillon cubes. Cover with foil and bake 45 minutes in moderate oven or until the potatoes and meat are tender.

SUMMER TIME seems to call for light and airy desserts. This pie fits that description to a T, or maybe I should say to a C, since it is chocolate.

CHOCOLATE CHIFFON PIE

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
2 squares of unsweetened chocolate
1 cup sugar, divided
¼ teas. salt
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 teas. vanilla
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten
8-inch baked pie shell

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add chocolate, ½ cup sugar and salt. Cook over hot water until chocolate melts and gelatin is thoroughly dissolved. Beat with rotary beater until well blended. Pour slowly over egg yolks. Cook and stir until mixture thickens.

Chill gradually, beat remaining ½ cup of sugar into beaten egg whites. Fold into gelatin mixture with vanilla. Turn into baked pie shell or graham cracker crust. Chill until firm. You may want to decorate it with whipped cream and shaved chocolate.

Here's Some Buying Tips On Swimsuits

Shopping for a new swimsuit? Before you take the plunge, heed these tips to help you suit yourself to a T, as suggested by the fashion consultants of a leading fabric maker:

Take stock of your figure before you shop; it will help you avoid the suits which aren't for you. To make short legs look longer, consider the floral printed maillot.

Try on your old swimsuit in front of a mirror, not only for size, but to note any flaws you'd like to avoid, or good points to be repeated. A well-fitting swimsuit should lie firmly but comfortably next to the skin, with no feeling of "pull-up" at the thighs or around the midriff. Straps should feel secure but not binding. In the store, try on a suit before you buy and move in it . . . when you sit down the suit should still feel comfortable.

Trick necklines may lead to odd sunburn patterns and should be avoided unless you're investing in more than one suit to change off. A possible exception to this situation is the tank suit which fastens diagonally over one shoulder and can be worn backwards to give the other shoulder its equal time in the sun.

Track down styles which flatter you. A universally flattering style, new this year, is the two-piece swimsuit with the more covered up top.

Volunteer Spot Jobs at Bureau

The Volunteer Bureau is planning two new programs in connection with the Ravenswood school district in south county.

Volunteers interested in story telling to children of many different backgrounds and nationalities can be most helpful.

Orientation classes to acquaint the volunteers with story telling and the schools will be given by the ex-chairman of the Peninsula Story Guild in late August. Many volunteers will be needed for this program for the kindergarten and elementary classes.

Volunteers will be needed for a teachers aid program in the kindergarten schools. Persons interested in working in the classroom with kindergarten teachers need not have had previous experience as orientation to the program will be given by the school personnel. One morning a week will be required.

The American Cancer society in San Mateo is in need of a volunteer to help work on their mailing lists—make changes in addresses and compile lists of volunteers.

Fall programs are being planned now by most agencies throughout the county and urgently needed are volunteers with various skills to do "spot jobs."

A veterans hospital in the county is badly in need of volunteers in the following areas: manual arts, occupation therapy, music, art, woodwork shop, general office and some limited typing and filing. Volunteers are needed from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and from 1 to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

For further information and other listings call by phone or in person to the Volunteer bureau, 119 Primrose road, Burlingame. The bureau, open Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., is a project of the Assistance league of San Mateo county and shares in the United Fund of San Mateo county.

Zoo Purchases Lilford Cranes

The San Francisco zoo has added two pair of Lilford cranes, purchased for $500 from an animal dealer in Hong Kong.

The cranes are noted for the loud sounds they produce. They first were placed in a large lake with flamingoes but quickly waded across the lake, clambered up a bank and started to stroll around the zoo.

They were recaptured and placed in the Axis deer area, which has a high fence around it.

'Can-Cat' Can Provide Fun

Here's a "can-cat" that's guaranteed to provide lots of fun.

The youngsters cover the sides of an empty soft drink can with gay paper, securing it with tape. Then, they blow up a balloon shaped like a pussy cat and knot it.

They attach it to the top of the can with double-faced tape. Now they draw a vest on the can, and clor it. A bow-tie can be made from different color paper and attached.

Rose of Tralee Fete To be Staged Friday

The second annual Rose of Tralee contest and dance will be held Friday night in the Gold Room of the Sheraton Palace hotel in San Francisco from 9 to 1.

That night, some lucky girl of Irish ancestry will be selected as the Bay Area's "Rose of Tralee."

As a reward she will receive a free round trip to Ireland, where she will be a contender —among girls from other American cities, as well, as Ireland and England — for the international Rose of Tralee crown, during the first week of September.

The contest is sponsored by the Festival of Kerry committee in Tralee, whose Bay Area representative is John Whooley of the Irish Center of San Francisco.

The Festival of Kerry is a week-long celebration for the purpose of boosting tourism and the economy of the town.

To be eligible, girls must be either born in Kerry, or have at least one parent or grandparent born in Kerry. Further information may be obtained from the Irish Center, 1255 Post street, PR 6-5125.

The public is invited to the contest and dance.

Music for dancing will be provided by Maurice Wolohan and his orchestra.

Let's All Go to the 1963 County Fair

AT BAY MEADOWS

Pari-Mutuel Betting Aids Big SM Show

FAIRGOERS will once again this year enjoy the sights and sounds of a real "country fair" made possible by California's horse racing industry.

The thoroughbreds may not realize this fact. Nor do the jockeys and fans contemplate its far-reaching effects as the horses turn into the home stretch.

But of the $39 million spent at California race tracks last year, over $8 million in taxes supported the operation of California's fairs.

The San Mateo Fair and Fiesta is one of nine in California that boast tracks with pari-mutuel betting.

The 4 per cent levy on races at Bay Meadows has provided a large portion of the funds used to develop flower and garden displays and agricultural-industrial shows, typical of the fair.

The Horse Racing act of 1933, which authorized such a tax levy, was the climax of a twenty-four-year struggle to reinstate racing and agricultural shows on a full-scale basis in California.

Although horse racing and fairs had become a joint venture as early as 1796 near or on the grounds of California missions, wagering was outlawed in the state in 1909.

At that time, the breeding of thoroughbreds was the state's third largest industry and a matter of international renown.

As a result of the ban, only eight fairs were in operation by 1933, although the legislature had authorized 44 of them.

THE SAN MATEO county Fair was one of the more fortunate. It developed from a 1927 community effort of amateur and commercial garden enthusiasts held in the San Mateo Junior college auditorium to a "Floral Fiesta," drawing crowds of tens of thousands to the floral pageants, parades, entertainment and spectacular fireworks displays at Bay Meadows.

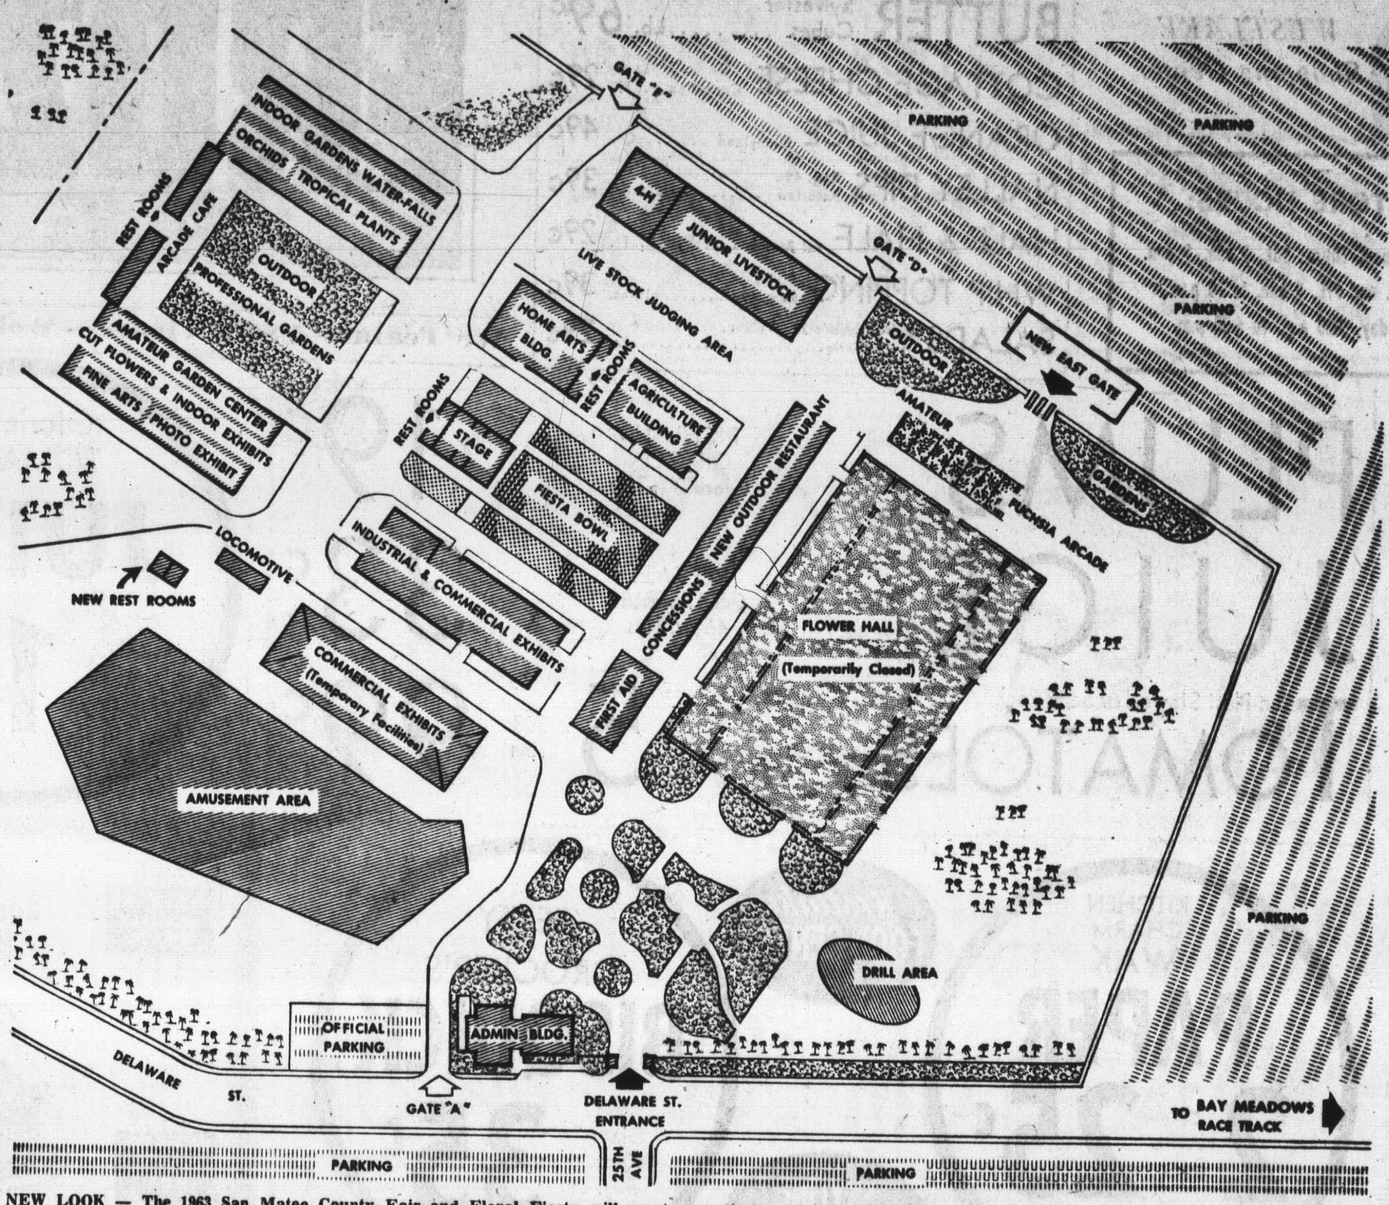
Passage of the Horse Racing act in 1933 by a two to one mandate of the people of California gave a boost to all California fairs and helped to make the San Mateo Fair and Fiesta an asset to the county's way of life.

Under the division of fairs and expositions of the California fairs program, the Fair and Fiesta received additional funds in 1938 which, together with new commercial exhibits, put the fair on a year-round basis.

The post-war population boom and a corresponding rise in attendance at California's race tracks has resulted in steadily increasing earnings for the state

Through June 30, 1962, total revenue to the state from parimutuel tracks came to more than $443.6-million.

For the San Mateo Fair and Fiesta, this has meant the opportunity and financial means to add new buildings and equipment to the fairgrounds — a combined state and county investment of $1,570,504.02 since 1948.



NEW LOOK — The 1963 San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta will sport an entirely new look this yeàr. A different floral exposition and a new arrangement of garden, art, industrial and commercial exhibits are planned because of the closing of the Hall of Flowers (lower right). The hall was shut down for repairs after inspectors discovered structural defects. If you plan to attend the fair, clip out this map and take it with you. It will help you find your way around.

29th Annual Event to be Showplace

(Editor's Note: George J. Davis of Belmont, the author of this article, has served on the San Mateo county Fair association board of directors since 1935. He was one of the original group of civic leaders who staged the first fiesta and was the association's first president.)

By GOERGE J. DAVIS

WHEN THE 29th annual San Mateo Fair and Floral Fiesta opens its gates Friday, fairgoers will see an unique and refreshingly different floral, industrial and agricultural show, which reflects the fair's tradition of growth and diversification developed over almost four decades.

As a participant in the first "Floral Fiesta" and as a current member of the fair board of directors, I have watched the fair expand from a small all-amateur flower exhibit to its present position as showplace for San Mateo county's multi-million dollar floral industry, its fine communities and its manufacturing and commercial organizations.

The 48-acre fairgrounds adjoining Bay Meadows race track that will house this year's Fiesta is quite a change from the site of our 1926 flower show — held in the McKinley school auditorium in Burlingame.

The 1926 show proved to the industrious florists and ladies of San Mateo that their little flower exhibit could draw a large and appreciative crowd.

The following year we moved to the more spacious San Mateo Union High scool gymnasium, where our floral exhibit was held for several years.

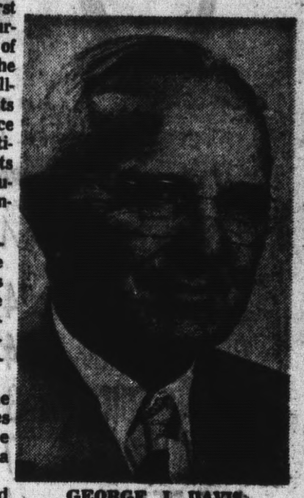
In 1935, the county manager's office was making arrangements for a parade from Daly City through Redwood City to Memorial park.

Two of my colleagues, Elmer Roberts, Chester Lipman, and I persuaded county publicity director William McCarthy that instead of a parade we could put on a wonderful floral fiesta and garden show.

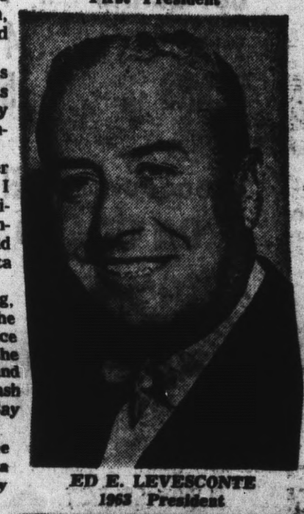
With Mr. McCarthy's backing, we were granted $5000 by the board of supervisors to produce a floral pageant. However, the money was slow in coming, and five of us borrowed enough cash to turn out a full show at Bay Meadows.

To the surprise of many, the 1935 "Floral Fiesta" was a tremendous success in every way—except financially.

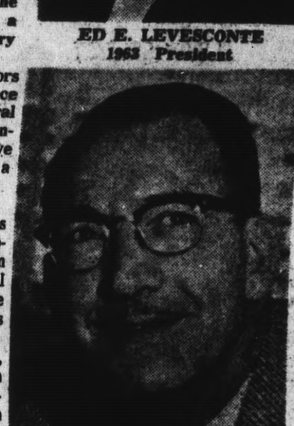
Tens of thousands of visitors came to the Bay Meadows race track, where elaborate floral displays, beauty pageants, entertainment and a parade gave spectators their first taste of a real county fair.



GEORGE J. DAVIS
First President



ED E. LEVESCONTE
1963 President



WILLIAM M. WILSON
Fair Manger

WORD OF the Fiesta's success spread as far as the state capitol, and by 1938, the exposition was recognized as an official "fair," thus making us eligible to receive funds from the state's Horse Racing act of 1933.

These sorely needed funds, plus an additional grant from the board of supervisors, enabled us to place the Fiesta on a year-round operating budget.

From 1938, the county-appointed Fiesta commission kept pace with rapidly growing Bay Area communities and thre fair and Fiesta attendance increased greatly.

The fair association purchased 25 acres of land from the California Jockey club in 1948 and the Fiesta once again moved its location to its present more modern facilities.

Improvements in the fairgrounds since 1948 have required a combined state and county investment of over $1-million — the latest addition being the $1½-million Twin Industrial building, which will house this year's professional and amateur floral exhibits.

Those of us who have participated in the tremendous growth of our fair and Fiesta feel that it will continue to become an even more integral part of San Mateo county's development, providing a chronicle of its past, a mirror of its present and a preview of its future.

In 1948, we built the Fiesta Hall of Flowers. Each year the floral exhibits in this huge building have grown in size and splendor.

Visitors from all over the world have come here to see our show and to marvel at the choice blooms from our nurseries and gardens.

WE WERE proud of this building and had planned this year to improve its appearance by the addition of new and enlarged entrances.

When a structural flaw was discovered, we had no choice but to close the building while further tests were made to determine the exact extent of the structural deficiency.

Although deeply disappointed over the temporary loss of this building, we directed our architect to develop a new plan and utilize our other buildings so that we could again present a fine show in the tradition of the fair and Fiesta.

We are pleased with the alternate plan that has been submitted by the architect and approved by the fair board of directors.

We appreciate the special efforts and hard work by fair manager Bill Wilson and his staff in meeting the many problems arising from this emergency.

The floral exhibits have been moved into the new Twin-Industrial building and courtyard where facilities are surprisingly well suited to our floral exhibits.

We are sure that friends and visitors will be impressed with this year's Fiesta and that they will enjoy our new — excitingly new — flower show.

I hope to see you at the Fiesta.

Top Entertainment Set

Banjoist Eddie Peabody Heads Fiesta Bowl Revue

EDDIE PEABODY, whose skillful banjo plucking and bouyant personality have won him fans throughout the world, will top nine days of entertainment for the family at this year's Fair and Fiesta.

For 40 years, audiences have enjoyed Eddie Peabody's easy brand of western humor, combined with banjo playing at its finest.

Long considered the undisputed king of the banjo, Eddie got his professional start in San Francisco as the musical conductor and emcee of the show at the old Granada theater on Market street.

Today, his appearances take him throughout most of this country's cities and towns. He is generally credited with the current revival in banjo music.

Peabody will star in a stage revue, next Wednesday through August 10, which also features the music of Jack Fisher and his orchestra, the acting and singing impressions of emcee-comedian Jimmy Jamerson, "county fair" high-stepping by the Malione Dancers and for the kids, Dwight Moore's Mongrel Revue, which has appeared with the Shrine Circus for several years.

THE CAVALCADE OF MUSIC, which launches fairtime entertainment at the Fiesta Bowl show, Friday, will be a departure from the perennial vaudeville-variety show. It will present a complete program of songs, dances and instrumental favorites of a century in American music, from 1860 to 1963.

June Montague, known-to theatre-goers as "The Golden Girl of Song," will come to San Mateo following successful musical comedy and light opera performances in New York and Los Angeles.

Joining her in saluting the music of Victor Herbert and selections from "South Pacific" rich baritone voice has earned him many appearances on radio and television shows as well as on the musical stage.

Barbershop harmonizing by the Bay Area's Dapper Dans, John Molinari's dazzling artistry on the accordion, a special South Pacific fire dance by Chief Tapu and the spinning of flaming batons by lovely Diane Shelton will bring the music of America—from the Southland of Stephen Foster through the Roaring Twenties to Meredith Wilson's "The Music Man" — to Fair and Fiesta audiences.

Show Headlines

EDDIE PEABODY, top photo, world famous for his banjo-playing artistry, will be the featured entertainer at this year's fair. He'll appear twice-daily in Fiesta Bowl shows. A supporting bill will include such performers as the lovely songstress, June Montague, above.

THE MALIONE DANCERS, seen here in a characteristically happy pose, will join other headliners in bringing a cavalcade of music to fairgoers at the fair's Fiesta Bowl show Friday through Tuesday. Cavalcade will feature a program of American songs, dances and instrumental favorites from 1860 to 1963.

Art Exhibit Judges Set

Three judges have been named for the 15th annual art exhibit at the county fair this year. The exhibit will be open throughout the nine-day program.

The judges are Dr. Ernest K. Mundt, Dr. Ralph W. Pulzker and Ruth Amer.

Dr. Mundt is a noted sculptor and author of texts on the philosophy of art. Dr. Pulzker is an artist and photographer and teaches at San Francisco State college.

Miss Amer is a San Francisco artist whose paintings have been shown at the Metropolitan Museum of Art and in one-man shows throughout the country.

More than 400 paintings were entered in the show. Of these, 100 will be chosen for display. Two $100 prizes will be awarded top winners.

Bozo Will Clown Again

A familiar face at all San Mateo county fairs will be back again this year at his usual task — making youngsters and adults alike laugh.

He's Bozo the Clown, long a favorite on television and at fairs throughout the world.

Bozo's favorite stunt is to delight youngsters with his unique balloon creations of everything from cats to space ships.

He even presents the youngsters' mothers with balloon corsages.

A Tuna Salad's Pretty Switch

Here's a pretty switch on a per-salad goes glamorous West Coast style. Crowned with bright fruits, this nutritious main-dish positive pleasure to serve.

For all its elegant appearance,

BUILT-IN ROAST SAUCE

Place 4-lb. pot roast in center of large sheet of aluminum foil. Combine one (2¼ oz.) envelope tomato soup mix, one (1½ oz.) envelope mushroom soup mix and one cup water. Spread on meat. Close foil tightly. Place in shallow pan and roast at 325 degrees F. for 3½ hours or until tender. The result is a deliciously flavored pot roast with a marvelous tomato-mushroom sauce ready-made at the same time.

A couple of tablespoons of butter, melted and mixed with a tablespoon of lemon juice do the job of seasoning a small bunch of broccoli that has been cooked.

Tuna Crown Salad rates just as high in nutrition as it does in looks. A serving of canned tuna provides more first-class protein than a comparable serving of red meat, plus valuable vitamins and minerals. Tuna is high in poly-unsaturtes, and it's easily digestible, due to a minimum of connective tissue. Wise choice for weight-watchers, drained tuna solequivalent quantities of popular meat cuts.

Tuna Crown Salad

1 can (6½ or 7 ounces) tuna in vegetable oil
½ cup each diced celery, diced cantaloupe and sliced grapes
1 tablespoon capers, optional
1 teaspoon minced onion
¼ teaspoon ginger
3 tablespoons mayonnaise

Combine drained tuna and remaining ingredients. Reserve oil for cooking purposes. Pack tuna mixture into a 2-cup measure. Invert on bed of shredded lettuce. Garnish with avocado slices and orange sections. Yield: 2 to 3 servings.

Easy, Rosy Fruit Salads

Nestle individual gelatin molds in orange peel "dishes" for a family or party surprise. Raspberry-flavored gelatin, sparked with fresh orange juice, is chock-full of canned fruit cocktail. "Easy, Rosy Fruit Salads" can be molded right in the orange shells, if you wish. Chill remaining gelatin until firm, then spoon atop gelatin already set in oranges.

Cut 3 large oranges in halves; use grapefruit knife or spoon to remove fruit and membrane, leaving half shells intact. Scrape inside of orange shells with spoon to remove all meat and membrane; cut fruit from membrane. Drain, reserving ½ cup orange juice. Dissolve 1 (3-ounce) package raspberry-flavored gelatin in 1½ cups hot water; add orange juice; chill until partially set. Fold in orange segments, 1 cup drained canned fruit cocktail, ⅓ cup chopped celery and ¼ cup chopped nuts. Pour into 6 individual molds and chill firm. At serving time, unmold into orange shells; garnish with lettuce leaves. Makes 6 servings.

Simplicity Key To Recipes

Simplicity is the keynote in creating delicious recipes just as it reflects good taste in fashion. No longer does a magnificent dish have to be a complex task. The fact is that cooking up a brand new taste sensation is quite easy according to an analysis just finished of previous winning recipes and the new entries submitted in the 1964 Men's National Cooking championship.

Here is one of last year's winning recipes which depends on a new sauce and potato chip breading of a familiar favorite:

1 fresh chicken cut into edible segments
1 medium jar of apricot preserves
2 tsps. soy sauce
2 tsps. dry mustard made into a paste with wine vinegar
2 tbsps. catsup
1½ c. coarsely crushed potato chips

First prepare a Canton sauce as follows: mix thoroughly, preserves, sauce, mustard paste (which should be allowed to set for 1 hr. before included in the sauce) and catsup. Dip chicken pieces into sauce, then roll the pieces in potato chips. Deep fry chicken until golden brown.

And following is an example of a former winner, which has unusual ingredients obtainable anywhere for the ever popular main dish pie:

SWISS CHIP PIE

Crust:

1½ c. coarsely crushed potato chips
¼ tsp. curry powder
6 tbsp. melted butter

Use to line 9 inch pie tin — reserving ¼ c. for top.

Filling:

1½ c. sliced onions
2 sliced tomatoes
2 c. grated natural Swiss cheese
2 tbsps. butter
1¼ c. milk
2 eggs
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. paprika
⅛ tsp. pepper

Saute onions in 2 tbsps. butter just until tender. Place in shell. Top with tomato slices. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, paprika and cheese. Mix eggs and milk together and add to top. Sprinkle top with reserved ¼ c. potato chip mixture and bake 40 minutes. Garnish with curly endive and serve with iced cola. Serves 4.

Any male adult may submit any number of original recipes for main dishes using potato chips. Both married or single men may enter, including previous years' entrants, but professional chefs are barred. Recipes should be sent before December 1, 1963 to Men's National Cooking championship, 331 Madison avenue, New York 17, N.Y., which is sponsored by the Potato Chip Institute International.

Recipes will be judged by a panel of leading women food experts, headed by that noted authority on cooking, Mrs. Marni Wood. First, state champions will be selected and all state champs will be eligible for selection as regional champions. There will be four regional winners who will be given the first fruits of victory by being awarded (with their wives, too, of course) a week's vacation next winter at the luxurious Americana hotel in sunny, beautiful Miami Beach, Fla.

It is there that the finals of the competition will be held and the men will cook their dishes in a try for the national championship title and the $1000 prize money. The three runners-up will also receive cash awards, so nobody loses in the finals, actually.

Dressing for Sudden Salad

If the choice of a salad is a last minute decision in your home, have a favorite dressing that tastes equally well with fruit or vegetable. This colorful French dressing fills the bill. Make it up ahead of time, though, if you want the color and flavor to be at their best.

CARDINAL FRENCH DRESSING

1 tablespoon of catsup
1 teaspoon of salt
1 tablespoon of sugar
¼ teaspoon of cracked Java black pepper
½ teaspoon of paprika
1 teaspoon of onion powder
⅛ teaspoon of garlic powder
1 teaspoon of mild mustard
½ cup of red wine tarragon vinegar
1 cup of olive oil

Combine all ingredients except olive oil in a pint jar. Shake until seasonings are dissolved. Let stand for an hour or more. Add olive oil and shake thoroughly again just before using. Serve on fruit or vegetable salads or pour over crisp, chilled salad greens. Makes 1½ cups of dressing.

Saturated Fats Low in Veal

If you have an idea that cooks who must concern themselves with limiting saturated fats can't cook anything out of the ordinary, then here's a recipe to set you straight. It is Veal Scallopine, and so delicious it's recommended not only for cholesterol watchers but for anyone who likes good food.

VEAL SCALLOPINE

1 pound veal cutlet, cut thin and pounded
Flour, seasoned with salt and pepper
¼ cup margarine
2 cups sliced fresh mushrooms
¼ cup Marsala or sherry wine
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Dredge veal in seasoned flour. Saute in margarine until golden brown on both sides. Add mushrooms and saute with the meat. When nicely browned, add wine and simmer about 3 minutes. Sprinkle with chopped parsley and serve immediately, pouring sauce in pan over the meat. Makes 4 servings.

TEMPURA is delicious made with delicate flavored and meaty sea scallops. In the Japanese manner the fish and vegetables are dipped in the same batter and fried in the same kettle.

Scallop Tempura Dish New Englanders

Among Japanese dishes Tempura and Sukiyaki are best known, with Tempura the one most likely to be reproduced by American cooks.

Tempura is batter fried fish and vegetables served piping hot from the kettle. Although the choice may include several varieties of both fish and shell fish, the recipe here features the deep sea scallops, in celebration of the sixth annual Scallop Festival.

The Scallop Festival will be held this year August 9, 10 and 11 in New Bedford, Mass. A big feature of the festival is the scallop dinner which is served to thousands of visitors. The scallops are donated by the New Bedford Scallop Fleet and the corn oil for frying them by the makers of Mazola.

Since 80 per cent of the nation's sea scallops are harvested by the New Bedford, Mass. Scallop Fleet, chances are that the fresh and frozen sea scallops found in the stores here come from the same source as the Festival Scallops.

If you have yet to introduce your family to sea scallops, do it this summer with your own festival at home and this recipe for Tempura. Serve the Tempura with boiled rice and a salad and for dessert make a delicious Cranberry Sherbet.

SCALLOP TEMPURA

1½ pounds sea scallops, fresh or frozen
½ pound string beans
2 or 3 summer squash
2 or 3 zucchini
Flour, for dusting
Tempura batter, for dipping
Mazola oil, for frying

Thaw scallops, if frozen. Remove shell particles; wash and drain. Slice summer squash and zucchini. Dust scallops lightly with flour. Pour corn oil into fry pan or sturdy flat bottomed kettle, filling utensil one-third full. Heat over medium heat to 375 degrees Fahrenheit or until a 1-inch cube of bread browns in about 40 seconds. Dip vegetables and prepared scallops into Tempura Batter and place in hot fat. Fry food, turning as needed, until tender, 1 to 2 minutes. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve hot. Makes 4 servings.

Tempura Batter: Sift ¾-cup flour and ¼-cup cornstarch together into bowl. Stir in 1 cup water and 1 egg. Beat with rotary beater or wire whisk until smooth and frothy.

TEMPURA SAUCE

1 tablespoon Mazola corn oil
1 tablespoon corn starch
1 tablespoon brown sugar
¾ cup water
1-3 cup white wine
2 tablespoons soy sauce
⅛ teaspoon ginger
⅛ teaspoon dry mustard
1 bouillon cube

Heat corn oil in saucepan. Blend in cornstarch and sugar. Gradually blend in water. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens slightly and comes to boil. Add bouillon cube, wine and soy sauce. Bring to boil, stirring constantly until bouillon cube is dissolved. Combine ginger and dry mustard. Stir in a little hot mixture, making a smooth paste. Blend into remaining sauce.

VEGETABLE SESAME SEED SALAD

1 quart assorted greens
Vegetable relishes, to garnish
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon toasted sesame seeds
1 teaspoon grated onion
⅓ cup light corn syrup
½ cup lemon juice
1 cup Mazola corn oil

Wash and prepare greens. Drain well. Place in refrigerator to crisp. Put all ingredients in small bowl. Beat with rotary beater until well blended and thick. Place in covered jar and chill several hours. Shake before serving. Makes about 1 2-3 cups. Serve with tossed greens. Garnish with vegetable relishes.

CRANBERRY SHERBET

1½ teaspoons unflavored gelatin
2 cups cranberry cocktail
1½ tablespoons nonfat dry milk
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1½ cups light corn syrup

Sprinkle gelatin over ¼ cup cranberry cocktail to soften. Stir over hot water until gelatin dissolves. Combine remaining ingredients; then add gelatin and mix well. Pour into refrigerator freezing tray. Freeze until mixture is almost firm. Turn into chilled bowl and beat with rotary beater or electric mixer until smooth. Return to freezing tray and freeze until firm, about 3 hours. Makes about 1 quart.

Frozen Food Flavor's Real

Frozen fruits bring the just-packed, genuine flavors and colors of summer to every meal, every season. Alone they make colorful and nourishing desserts or appetizers that are not overloaded with calories. Combined with other foods, frozen fruits make excellent baked desserts, salads, puddings and sauces. They need only partial defrosting on the refrigerator shelf for 4 to 6 hours (or overnight). For quick defrosting, keep unopened container at room temperature for 2 hours, or place under running water for 20-30 minutes.

CREAMY CHICKEN GRAVY

If you want to whip up a quick and easy chicken gravy, add one (1½ oz.) envelope cream style chicken soup mix to pan drippings that are left after you've cooked chicken. Then gradually blend in 1¾ cups water until smooth. Heat to boiling point and simmer for 2 minutes, stirring. Blend in ½ cup milk.

Teenager Asks . . .

By JOE BAVARESCO

Dear Mr. Bavaresco: I am 16 years old and I have a problem. I want to be a singer and my parents think I'm crazy. They say show business is rough and only people with low morals are in it. I'm sure this isn't true. I really enjoy singing and entertaining. They want me to be a school teacher. What can I do?

M. K.

Dear M. K.: Live your own life. I realize you should obey your parents, but in this case ask them to let you give your heart and singing a try.

In this case, as in many, parents can be mislead and non-understanding. They should let you give it a try.

Show business is like any business. It's full of people and wherever there are people you'll find all kinds—good and bad.

It just happens that in show business entertainers have no private life and the whole world knows their problems and private affairs.

But their lives are no different than a plumber's, except it may be a little more glamorous. Therefore when a plumber gets a divorce, it's for the best (they say). But when someone in show business gets a divorce its' low morals.

However your parents are right in that it is a rough business. It's a lot of work and study. In fact, it's 75 per cent and 25 per cent talent.

Anything worthwhile is hard work, and study. If this is what you really want, give it your all. You only have one life, make it count. Don't go through life wishing you had done something, go out and do it. You don't get a second chance.

The world is full of people who are going to do something about their desires "some day."

I'm sure your parents understand that singing makes you happy and in time will agree to let you go ahead. Sometimes it takes time, but their love for you will win out and they want you only to be happy. I'm sure. So take in all in stride. Nothing is worthwhile that comes easy.

Dear Mr. Bavaresco: What do you think of the Slang Dictionary that is out. I know how well read your column is and we want your opinion.

A Reader

Dear Reader: This is one of several hundred letters asking me to give my opinion. I thought that this slang dictionary thing like other things would pass. But I guess it has come time to tell you what I feel, as it affects the teenagers.

I first heard about it through a PTA group who wrote me to ask what can be done. A copy was sent to me by this same group. I looked at it, read it and glared at it. I was shocked and believe me it takes a lot of shock to shock Bavaresco.

I can't believe any publishing firm would print such trash.

What is happening to the dignity of the printed word. And pray tell, who needs such a dictionary. The people who use these words, I assure you know well what they mean. It's bad enough these words exist, let alone explain them.

I feel that anything as rotten as this dictionary, should be burned. It was in my fireplace minutes after it arrived.

As to what can be done, maybe we should get out the old tar and feathers and give the author a suit of same.

You know, I tried to imagine who would write this awful thing and you know, I can't.

If this kind of stuff is printed now, what is coming tomorrow? Adult groups as well as teenagers should check book stores, libraries and any place where the printed word is sold or loaned, and make sure it is put out of circulation.

Unfortunately, the more it is talked about the more appeal it has for the low class and low-minded people who get their cheap thrills out of reading this garbage. I don't feel I am contributing to the advertising of this hunk of junk, because the readers of this column are not of the class of people I just described.

Mary's Help On the Way Up

BUILDING PROGRESS—Workers prepare concrete foundations for the 400-bed St. Mary's Help hospital, now being built on a hilltop at the southwest intersection of Junipero Serra boulevard and Eastmoor avenue. A drive now is in progress to raise funds to complete the facility as orginally planned.

Fund Drive Kickoff Planned

A kickoff meeting to launch the Daly City phase of the Mary's Help hospital building fund campaign will be held at 8 Tuesday night in the parish hall of Our Lady of Mercy church in Westlake.

Frank Curry, past president of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce, has been named chairman of a citizens committee that will seek funds for the building program.

Assisting him will be John Drye, former head of the Daly City Personnel board; Al Figone, labor leader, and Paul Hupf, attorney for Daly City.

A similar campaign is underway in Pacifica under the leadership of co-chairmen Mayor Harold Feyge, Councilwoman Mrs. Jean Fassler and Mr. and Mrs. William Blak.

The overall fund drive for the hospital is being directed by Judge George B. Harris, chairman of the hospital's board of governors.

To complete the hospital, $1.5-million is needed, officials say. This is 18 per cent of the total cost of $8.5-million.

The hospital will be operated by the Daughters of Charity of St. Vicent de Paul. The facility will be open to all residents regardless of race, religion or economic status.

Cabrillo School Ready for Fall

With all effort being bent to have its new facilities ready for occupancy by the opening of the school year in September, the Laguna Salada Union School district board of trustees got the good news last week that new Cabrillo school is 98 per cent complete and will be ready for acceptance by the board in early August.

Water Lines On Coast to Be Relocated

Two contracts, one for relocation of water pipes under the coastal freeway and the other for final stage work on Pacifica's $1,600,000 water system improvement bond issue, have been awarded by trustees of the North Coast county Water district.

Meeting in regular session, trustees awarded a $33,097 contract to Associated Pipeline company of South San Francisco for relocating water lines as the new Cabrillo coastal freeway is built.

The district is still hoping for state aid with this project, general manager Rusty Hill said.

A bill to have the state assume the cost was defeated this year in the legislature. But water district officials have been told there is hope the state will be able to lend the money and, because of special circumstances, excuse the debt.

Dale Williams incorporated of 299 Bel Mar avenue, Daly City, was awarded a $55,620 contract for Project Four of the 1961 bond issue general water system improvement work.

This includes some enlarging of the district's pumping facilities and extending some of the water mains—including a 12-inch crossing under Crespi drive in the Linda Mar area that will enable the district to supply more of the south end of the city with water from the north end.

Hill said that work on this project should begin in about thirty days.

Now He'll Take That Camp Trip

Trustees of the North Coast county Water district have decide to give four-week vacations to 15-year employes.

General manager Rusty Hill, the first to qualify, promptly announced he will take a camping vacation this fall at Lake Shasta with his five youngsters.

Hill, a coastside resident since 1945, joined the district when it had been in existence only two years.

As a laborer, he was the only other employe besides the general manager.

BUSES DAMAGED

Vandals threw rocks through the windshields of three school buses, parked at the rear of Jefferson High school, Daly City police reported last week.

Cabrillo, on Crespi boulevard, suffered $10,000 damage by two young boys last month and it was feared repairs would throw the completion schedule right up against the deadline for school opening.

The new school in the Pacific Heights addition is 60 per cent complete, the board learned, and may be ready by September.

Not quite so for the new Westview addition school, it was feared. It is 35 per cent complete, with a completion date of November 14, but even building acceleration leaves the possibility of a September opening quite remote.

In the meantime construction work on the new administration offices annex on Reina Del Mar boulevard in Pacifica, 55 per cent complete, is being held up so the contractor can put full effort into getting the classrooms finished.

The board also formalized a policy it has followed for some time, that of disposing of unclaimed articles left by children at the end of the school year in June.

The practice has been to wait a month then contact a non-denominational charity organization to pick them up.

The year-old school honor roll practice will be continued, the board decided after reviewing it after its first year of operation.

Mori's Point Inn Is Shut

Closed for repairs this week was Pacifica's historic Mori's Point inn, shut down by the city because of what inspectors say are unsafe conditions creating a fire hazard.

At the request of the city's building inspector, Richard Taylor, Pacific Gas and Electric company officials shut off the inn's electricity as the city posted an abatement notice.

Some of the fire hazards reported by inspectors include inadequate water pressure for fire fighting, inadequate fire exits, and an improper heating system.

The ancient inn, built in the late 1800's, is a Pacifica landmark. It is due to be torn down for a new multi-million dollar development which will include a restaurant in the round, motel and apartments with views overlooking the golf course and a neighborhood shopping center.

Mayor Harold Feyge said he was told by the owners, five Pacificans who form the Mori's Point corporation, that repairs would be made.

Letters From Our Readers

To the Editor,

As a representative of the Westlake Senior Citizens, I want to thank you for your excellent articles on both our club and the Pacifica Club in recent issues of your paper.

These articles are so well written and cover the many good points of our clubs and their members.

It is not very often that space is given to the activities of the older people but in this case it has been well done.

We, at Westlake Club, enjoyed the visit of your Louanne Heath, and I am sure she made many friends for herself and your paper.

Members of our club, who have never before read The Post, will certainly be looking forward to reading futurec opies.

Mrs. Heath is a very charming young lady, with a very noticeable ability to meet the older people, and I, who arranged for her appearance, was particularly proud of her very nice way of talking to our members.

Thank you again, for giving us space in your paper.

WILLARD WAGNER.
Treasurer,
Westlake Senior Citizens

TO THE EDITOR:

In a recent letter to the Pacifica City Council written by me regarding the controversy over placement of Pacifica's legal advertising, it is possible that I have inadvertently given the impression that I did not feel that The Post was a recognized news and advertising medium.

Please allow me to correct any such impression that may have been drawn from my letter. Your paper is read with interest by the people of Pacifica.

The generous coverage that you have always given our various functions has been a key factor in their success.

Specht Attends Fire Seminar

Frank Specht, Daly City fire department battalion chief, and Vernon Brooke, Bayshore City fire inspector, attended a fire prevention seminar held recently at the University of California Berkeley campus.

The seminar was presented by University of California Extension and the California Fire Training program.

It examined new fire prevention techniques and safety programs and surveyed recent state legislation affecting the operation of fire prevention and protection agencies.

Fire department officials, law enforcements officers and public agency personnel throughout the state participated in the seminar.

Four Burned By Ammonia

Three Daly City firemen and a refrigeration repairman were injured last Tuesday when an ammonia leak occured in the attic of the Producers and Retailers Cooperative Organization Parco at 60 Dixon court, Daly City.

Fred Berkhofer of Morris Manufacturing company was burned on the hands while working on a refrigeration unit in the warehouse of the egg retailing firm.

Treated at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in South San Francisco for ammonia burns on the neck were firemen John Martin, Ronald Angelot and Captain John Roy. Roy also suffered burns on the arms and ankle.

S.M. Demos Join Party Gathering

San Mateo county's delegates to the Democratic State Central committee will join more than 1000 Democratic leaders from all parts of the state when the Democratic party gathers for its annual meeting in the state capitol at Sacramento on August 10 and 11.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson will deliver the keynote address to the state meeting which is designed to kick-off the Democrats' campaign for "Victory in '64," according to Patrick Dailey of Woodside, Democratic State Central committee co-chairman.

In addition to Vice President Johnson, the Democratic delegates and guests will hear from U.S. Senator Clair Engle and other representatives from the congress, the White House, and the Democratic national committee, Dailey added.

"This meeting, which is open to the public, is probably the most important event which will occur for Democratic leaders this year and since it is geared to the practical aspects of bringing about "Victory in '64," I would like to invite and encourage all active Democrats in San Mateo county to participate in the weekend's activities," Dailey continued.

"With its newly augmented electoral vote, California can provide the cornerstone for President Kennedy's re - election next year.

"We believe that this two - day meeting and work session will lay the groundwork for delivering the Golden State's electoral vote to the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in 1964 and for re-electing our great United States senator, Clair Engle," Dailey said.

Democrats interested in attending the weekend meeting can obtain particulars by contacting San Mateo Democratic county chairman A. C. Bud Harrison of Burlingame, Democratic state committee co-chairman Doris Eisan of Pacifica, or Patrick Dailey of Woodside.

Mixing With the Stars

Housewife, Friend Nabbed In Coastside Shop Spree

A young San Francisco housewife and her Oregonian guest went on a shopping spree Thursday visiting at lest 10 stores in San Francisco, Daly City and Half Moon Bay.

They stopped at United Shopper's Exclusive, Government Employes and Alec's in San Francisco; Westlake Shopping center, Woolworths, a small delicatessen, QFI, Arthur Men's store, and Safeway in Daly City; and the Super X market in Half Moon Bay.

Among the items on their shopping list were: nine bottles of liquior, two hair driers, a mixer, steam iron, steak knives, children's clothing, dresses, men's and women's sweater's, about 50 pounds of eats including steak, lamb chops and hamburgers, vitamins, diapers, children's books, spray starch, and finally, a can of foot powder.

A clerk at the Super X market in Pacific Manor, Half Moon Bay, James Matteucci, watched the gleeful shoppers stuffing the bottles of liquor into an oversize handbag.

He said they were also caching items around the store, apparently planning to pick them up on a return trip.

The ladies, Mary Lou Doyle, 26, 3935 Eighteenth street, San Francisco, and Geraldine Swift, Mrs. Doyle, at first claimed that all the articles belonged tothem.

But after questioning by Policewoman Madline Ambrosius, they admitted the shoplifting.

"They did what every woman would like t edo," Mrs. Ambrosius said, "they went shopping without having to worry about price tags."

Pescadero Park Plan Is Approved

Boundaries of the area the county will attempt to acquire surrounding the Pescadero reservoir project have been approved by the county board of supervisors.

The area, worked out by county manager E. R. Stallings in conferences with the owner, the Santa Cruz Lumber company, includes 2650 acres, about half of what was first proposed.

The property will surround the four-mile long reservoir that will extend from the county's Memorial park to Portola State park.

If present plans work out, it will become one of the most popular resorts in the area. At the same time, it will provide urgent water storage and flood control needs for the south coastal area.

An earthen dam is proposed to be located about one mile east of Memorial park. A county jail honor farm has been located near the dam site and prisoners will work to develop the area.

The board also approved the tentative alignment of two park roads, one that will go to the north of the reservoir, the other to the south.

At Stallings' suggestion, the south road is to be named Skillman parkway, in memory of the late county planning director, Frank S. Skillman. Skillman was a dedicated conservationist and planned a major role in the early planning of the Pescadero project.

"His eyes would light up when he talked about it," Stallings told the board.

WINDSHIELD BROKEN

Vandals threw a rock through the windshield of a mail delivery truck parked at the Westlake Post Office branch, postal officials reported to Daly City police last week.

Westborough Earth Haul Authorized

Permits to move nearly three million cubic yards of dirt in the Westborough subdivision were approved last week by the county planning commission.

Because of the nature of the terrain, every home in the vast subdivision will be located on either being taken from the hills and dumped into the valleys.

One of the permits approved is to allow the transfer of 1,900,000 cubic yards from one section to fill some ponds in another section.

Louis Goss, city engineer of South San Francisco, told the commission he has received many complaints about dust from the Westborough project and expressed concern about measures designed to prevent silt from washing away from the project into Colma creek.

Goss suggested that the developers install a water system on the grading areas to soak down the dirt at night. Frank Perkins, general manager of the project, agreed to consider the suggestion.

CSM Receives Approval On Television Station

Everything seems to be falling into place for College of San Mateo's proposed new non - commercial education television station.

The U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare Thursday accepted the college's application for $122,991 in federal funds to help get the station started.

U. S. Senator Clair Engle (D-Calif.) said last week that federal acceptance of the application doesn't constitute final approval but "is a step in that direction."

Estimated total cost of the station construction and facilities is $235,544, with the other $112,533 being included in the college's 1963-64 fiscal budget.

With its foot now almost in the door, the ultra - high frequency channel 14 station would become the second of its type in the state, a happy CSM president Dr. Julio Bortolazzo said last week. The first is that at San Bernardino college.

Dr. Bortolazzo said that the station should be in operation by February 1964 if all goes well in the financial department. Bids will be opened on the new station antennae next week, with calls going out for bids on other technical equipment soon.

Ultra - high frequency (UHF) calls for a different type of receiver or a converter on today's models, but Dr. Bortolazzo noted that reception is vastly improved, adding that it was a real feather in CSM's cap to get the channel allocated to it.

The channel had been assigned to Modesto interests, but went unused and was in considerable demand by several commercial interests as well as the college.

It's going to be used strictly as a link between the college and the communities of San Mateo county, Dr. Bortolazzo emphasized. There'll be educational programs aimed at all levels from kindergarten through college and every type of public service coverage.

"We'll focus on every important community event," Dr. Bortolazzo said. "We'll have a mobile unit that'll be at the scene of every important meeting and event in the county that it can."

College vice president William A. Goss noted that CSM's application was processed "a little ahead of the pack" under new federal legislation this year that makes educational TV stations eligible for federal aid, both on and off-campus types.

CSM has the first station in the western U. S. to have its application acted upon.

Senator Engle added that any interested person, within 30 days after July 27, may submit comments regarding the CSM application with the Director, Educational TV Facilities Program, U.S. Office of Education, Washington, D. C.

Rollin' Rock Shakes Up A Home on the Coastside

There was quite a jolt around the Jasper Stevens home, 1507 Terra Nova boulevard, Pacific, at about 9 a.m. Wednesday.

The six Jasper children, ages five to 15, were in various parts of the house when a large boulder, about 30 inches in diameter, came thundering down the hillside behind the house, crashed into the corner of the patio, broke that and then smased the glass rear door and gave the house a Must Repay Welfare Dept.

A South San Francisco woman has been ordered by Municipal Judge W. Howard Hartley to repay $115 she received from the county welfare department while earning money through employment.

Mrs. Carmen Arias, 40, 863 Olive avenue, pleaded guilty in central district municipal court to a charge of failing to report the income.

District Attorney's investigator Adolph Fernandez said that Mrs. Arias was employed and earning $25 a week while receiving assistance from the county.

Judge Hartley sentenced Mrs. Arias to six months summary probation on condition that she make restitution at the rate of $35 a month.

Family Saved From Ocean

Ten-year-old William Koppler, Jr. went wading in the ocean Wednesday in a sojourn that ended with Pacifica firemen sending his father and 12-year-old sister to Peninsula hospital for treatment of shock and exposure.

The Koppler family was on the Pedro Valley beach, Wednesday afternoon when young William went wading and was caught in an undercurrent that started to take him out.

His father, William Koppler, Sr., 43, went in after him and he, too, was dragged by the strong current.

Then Sandra, the girl, charged into the water after her father.

In the meantime someone called Pacifica firemen, who got there just after the threesome had made their tenuous way back to the shore.

New Faces in the Daly City Fire Department

RECRUITS—These three men have joined the Daly City Fire department, replacing firemen who have resigned to take other jobs or to join other fire departments. The trio are going through a six-week orientation program. Left to right are Donald J. Campbell, William G. Spencer and Gregory W. Abell.

WELCOME—Battalion Chief Mel Hanson of the Daly City Fire department welcomes Al Thuesen into the department as a volunteer after administering the oath of office to Thuesen and another new volunteer, Gonzalo Fernandez, left. Both men have been assigned to Station Four. The department is conducting a recruiting program for volunteer firemen.

Pacifica Child Drinks Chemical

Elaina McCurdy, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McCurdy, 1095 Barcelona drive, Pacifica, was admitted to Peninsula hospital last Tuesday after she had drunk a chemical mixture given her by other children.

The solution consisted of various chemicals from a children's chemical kit.

Toastmaster Award Given

Donald L. Stepp, a new member and first time speaker, won the best speaker award last week at a meeting of the Daly City Toastmaster's club.

Stepp is owner of Better Carpets incorporated at 6278 Mission street, Daly City. He opened his store in January of this year.

Merlin Porter, president of the club, announced that theg roup will conduct a speech course from September 12 through October 31.

Association to Seek Initiative Zoning Curb

A threat to curb the zoning powers of the county through initiative procedures was made last week by the president of Town Hall association, the county's largest taxpayer organization.

James M. Himmel told the county board of supervisors that on the agenda for the August 6 meeting of the association's board of directors is a proposal to call an emergency convention of civic and improvement clubs.

"The major emergency purpose of this convention," Himmel said, "will be to decide whether or not the people of San Mateo county wish to take the opportunity, by means of initiative procedures, to make such laws as may be necessary to protect this garden spot on the Peninsula and to preserve our unsurpassed way of life."

Himmel spoke at a public hearing at which, over a flood of protests, the county board approved rezoning to allow construction of a row house project on an island of incorporated territory between Atherton and Menlo Park.

Himmel, and other speakers, blasted the county planning commission because it recommended that the rezoning be approved and because of the way it conducted a meeting on the subject earlier in the month.

The matter had ben referred back to the commission by the supervisors for more study and Himme. and others though the commission should not have limited its hearing.

"The action of the planning commission in refusing to hold any additional formal public hearings, in good faith, is highly arbitrary, autocratic and dictatorial, if not capriciousl," Himmel declared.

Teacher Is Given Leave

Laguna Salada Union school district board of trustees last wek placed district music instructor Boyd G. Johnson, 38, on compulsory leave without pay following his arraignment last Tuesday on two charges of criminal assault.

This is standard procedure, the board noted. No further action will be taken until the case has been decided in court.

Johnson was arrested by Pacifica police on counts of forcible assault and assault by threat and was arraigned last Tuesday.

He and an accomplice are accused of assaulting a 47-year-old San Francisco woman several times both in a car and at Johnson's Pacifica apartment.

Pacifica police are still searching for the accomplice.

Stanford Battles County on Project

Stanford university was challenged Thurday to either approve the Ladera Dam project or agree to pay the added cost of an alternative project.

V. K. Sanders, San Mateo county flood control engineer, reported to the board of supervisors last week that a committee on which he serves determined that a dam would be the least expensive way to provide needed flood control measures on San Francisquito creek, from the standpoint of local costs.

Stanford has consistently opposed the dam, which would create a large reservoir on university property in Portola Valley.

$5 Million Move

After reporting on the findings of his committee, which found that alternative projects including various combinations of damming and channel improvements would cost as much as $5 million more than the dam, Sanders told the board:

"I recommend that Stanford be asked to review its position on the Ladera Dam project. If Stanford is still opposed, I recommend that it be asked if it is willing to bear the increased costs of an alternate project."

The committee estimated that the dam would cost $8,750,000, of which $4,470,000 would be paid by all jurisdictions. The cheapest alternate proposal would cost at least $6 million of local funds, he said.

Engineering Study

County Manager E. R. Stallings urged that all jurisdictions involved undertake an engineering study "to prove the point" of whether the dam is or is not the best project. He predicted that the study would show that it is but that Stanford would continue to oppose it anyway.

The board approved the requested study and also authorized Stallings to query Stanford officials on two points— whether any size of reservoir would be acceptable, and whether Stanford would be willing to pay the added local cost of an alternate project.

"At least we would know then," Stallings said, "where the battle lines are drawn."

"I hope there are no battle lines," replied Don Carson, representing the university.

Carson repeated the school's position that a $6 million plan for channel improvements, which would be paid for entirely by local funds, should be the plan adopted because it is the least expensive.

THEFT REPORTED

Lois W. Bailey of 455 Eastmoor avenue reported to Daly City police last week that miscellaneous papers and medicine had been stolen from her auto, parked in a carport.

Peninsula Panorama

By GEORGE WHITESELL

Peninsula pedestrians and motorists who get furious or frantic in traffic are not alone with their problem.

It is a problem that is almost exactly similar in similarily situated areas in Europe and England and is often made even worse by the fact that streets are usually narrower and frequently obstructed by statues, fountains and unexpected dead-ends.

And, just as here, parking is a powerful pain in the neck.

To tell the truth, Peninsulans actually have it easier in traffic. They do not have to contend with a maze of motorcycles and scooters, or a blizzard of bicycles.

Throughout Italy the scooter traffic is so heavy it would actually choke vehicular movement in the cities if it were not for the fact that the scooter riders are adept at dodging, scurrying through any opening, jumping curbs, and taking chances that make the beholder shudder.

In Italy, too, the vast majority of all autos are tiny by American standards, although the number of passengers they carry must be about the same as here and you frequently see loads larger than the cars themselves piled on the tops.

Offsetting the smaller sizes of the passenger autos are extremely large buses and trucks in great number. These are in the heart of the traffic and the whole thing looks something like a lot of whales swimming through a sea of minnows.

Where Peninsulans definitely have it better is in the width of streets and roads. Although wider thoroughfares and streets are being built, and some already exist, most of the Italian streets are narrow and the intersections, if any, are on a sort of zig-zag plan.

Italians are very good drivers. They have to be.

Although traffic is easier in the smaller cities, Rome is no place for the plodding pedestrian. His life is constantly in his hands and he will not get anywhere if he does not take heart-stopping chances in making crossings.

Communicating roads and the new "Autostradas" which correspond to our freeways are excellent. In northern Italy there are attractive restaurants built directly over the "Autostradas" at intervals.

In contradistinction to the rest of Italy, Venice is a natural pedestrian's paradise if he doesn't mind circuitous routes and constant climbing up and down over the bridges.

There are no autos, but the boat traffic is heavy and in many places controlled by stop and go lights.

The dwindling number of Gondoliers are in a constant feud with the water taxis, motor launches, ferries and freight boats.

Speed limits are strictly enforced because the backwash from speeding power boats is dangerous to the Gondolas and can easily send water from the canals swirling through somebody's back door.

By long odds the heaviest traffic this department has seen anywhere in the world is in London. This is true of both motor and foot traffic.

It appears even worse than it is to American eyes because the vehicular traffic keeps to the left and practically scares the shirt off of you.

Pedestrian traffic follows no rules. It is a constant mad scramble made worse by strolling musicians and pavement artists.

Traffic lights are intended to control the pedestrians but the sporting Briton takes his chances against the red light as a matter of course. This has turned the British into an agile nation.

The huge, red, double-decked buses ride close to the curbs and take off when the signals change. It's every man for himself.

There are some parking meters in London and they are still something of a novelty. Unlike ours, they show a section of overtime parking before going into the red "violation" signal.

They are for parking and not for waiting vehicles. The driver's seat must be empty or he will be requested to move on.

They have not solved any London parking problems, just as they have failed to solve parking problems here at home on the Peninsula.

Planners Seeking Billboard Advice

The Daly City Planning commission, taking cognizince of growing public sentiment against billboards along scenic freeways, last week asked the State Highway commission to comment on an application for a new billboard along Junipero Serra boulevard.

The application had been brought before the commission by the West Coast Advertising company. The company wants to erect a billboard on the northeast corner of Junipero Serra and Citrus avenue.

The Junipero Serra freeway, now under construction in some areas, will be a scenic road depressed at least 15 feet in the area of this intersection.

A spokesman for the commission said that before approving the billboard, commission members want to know if the billboard is planned primarily for viewing from the freeway.

The commission withheld approval of the application, pending word from the State Highway commission.

In other action, planners approved an application to build a motel and motel apartments on land situated on the south side of Westlake avenue and on both sides of the Southern Pacific railroad.

However, the commission directed the developer, Domenic Belcastro of San Francisco, to erect either a wall or fence, at least four feet high, on both sides of the railroad to prevent motel patrons from "indiscriminately" crossing the tracks.

The barriers would have two openings for access to each side.

At present, Southern Pacific runs at least one train each day along this line. . . .

Before approving plans for the motel, the commission approved the rezoning of the land from heavy commercial and unclassified to multiple dwelling and light commercial.

The commission also:

Approved an illuminated sign 6241 Mission street for The TV Man store.

Approved a non - illuminated sign at 6899 Mission street for Van Ness Chrysler - Plymouth incorporated.

Held over again an application from Robert Onorato of San Bruno to build apartments with commercial use on the southeastern corner of Mission street and Crocker avenue, pending receipt of plans.

Bureau Says $6,000,000 Spent Here

Visitors to 598 conventions and meetings spent more than six million dollars in San Mateo county during a one-year period, according to the Convention and Visitors bureau.

The bureau's report, covering May 1, 1962 through April 30, 1963 reported that 40,030 registered and un-registered visitors attended the conventions.

On the basis of national studies which show that the average visitor spends $50 per day, the group spent approximately $6,004,500.

Not included in the study were meetings and dinners of local organizations. Only groups which stayed at least one full day were reported. Many conventions lasted four or more days, according to the report.

Nearly four million additional visitors were spectators at special events in the county at Bay Meadows race track, Cow Palace, the Redwood City rodeo, the Fair and Floral Fiesta, and Tanforan race track. They spent more than 19 million dollars.

The grand total of money spent in San Mateo county was $25,211,310, according to the report.

The bureau said that San Mateo had been selected for a convention of the western region of Ford implement and tractor dealers this fall. Three regional meetings will be held—at New York, Chicago, and San Mateo. The western meeting will bring visitors from 11 states to San Mateo.

Junior Teens Slate Joint Dance, Meet

The Colma area Junior Teen clubs, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department will hold a joint meeting and dance at the War Memorial community center Friday.

The three clubs are the Casualiers, Majestics and Imperials.

High light of the evening will be the appearance of Ken Starr and his Legionnaires, a top local band.

Admission will be 20 cents for members and 30 cents for guests.

The inter-club social league continues each Monday evening with competition between the six clubs. A variety of special events are scheduled following the games.

Stolen Auto Hits 4 Cars

A San Francisco father and his son were arrested Saturday night by Daly City police after a car the son was driving smashed against four parked autos along Flournoy street. Police said the car had been stolen.

Investigators said the car was owned by Jesse L. Green of San Francisco. It had been taken from downtown San Francisco early Saturday morning.

Charged with auto theft were Campbell Spikes, 55, and his son, James Lee Spikes, 17. The father was treated for a cut over the right eye, suffered in the collision.

Police said the stolen car smacked into autos owned by Ramon J. Meek of 132 Flournoy; Bessie Milan of 1541 Kentfield avenue, Redwood City; Patricia Parker of 136 Flournoy, and Jack Waheed of 18 Hills street, Daly City. The vehicles were parked in a row.

The son told police he lost control of the Green auto. The suspects were turned over to San Francisco police.

No Probe of Fiesta Hall. Grand Jury

The grand jury plans no investigation of the Hall of Flowers case, Foreman Robert H. Higgins of San Mateo said Saturday.

District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson's report of Thursday to the board of supervisors was reviewed "thoroughly" Friday night by the grand jury in a special session, Higgins reported.

Although the grand jury doesn't plan a probe, it is still "very much interested," the foreman said.

He said it was the general consensus of the body that a "real investigation" of the flaws in the large county fari building should be made by a structural engineer or by a "group of structural engineers.

Higgins reported that it is his personal opinion there is no disagreement among jury members concerning Sorenson's statement that possibility of criminal prosecution in the case is unlikely.

"There would be a very remote possibility of convicting anyone according to the information presented Friday night," Higgins stated.

Optimists Hold Joint Meeting

The Lake Merced Optimist club held a joint meeting with the Sunset Optimist club at Mann's Dinner house in San Francisco yesterday.

The club normally meets Tuesdays at 12:15 in the Westlake Bowl.

Harry Schiedeck spoke last week on the operation of cemeteries and presented the club with a number of interesting statistics.

Pacifica Gives Police Exams

Police eligibility examinations will be held in Pacifica Friday, Chief Neil Tremaine announced this week. Yesterday was the last day for the filing of applications.

The examinations will include both written and physical agility tests.

Chief Tremaine said he is hoping to add at least eight or nine good candidates to his eligibility list.

At present the Pacifica police department has 12 officers, three dispatchers, a matron, detective and two sergeants.

Honey Coolers For the Patio

A warm summer day, when a congenial group of friends are seated in the back yard enjoying the garden, the conversation and the weather, is the time to bring out a large pitcher of iced Honey Orange-Lemonade. Pour the cool honey drink into tall glasses and garnish with slices of orange and lemon and a sprig of mint. Your guests will marvel at the delicious, unique flavor honey adds to this cooler.

HONEY ORANGE-LEMONADE

4 cups orange juice
1 cup lemon juice
1 cup Honey
2 cups water

Combine ingredients and stir over cracked ice in tall glasses. Garnish with orange and lemon slices and a sprig of mint.

Plan an outdoor summer birthday party for one of your youngsters. Friends from the neighborhood will have a wonderful time in the yard playing the games you have organized plus the ones their own imaginations create. When it is time for refreshments, a birthday cake with a cool honey malted milk will be sure to make a hit with the young visitors. Honey malted milk is flavorful as well as good for the children. Honey contains vitamin C and all of the members of the B complex and essential minerals in small amounts.

HONEY MALTED MILK

1 quart milk, chilled
6 tablespoons honey
2 cups crushed fresh strawberries
1 tablespoon malted milk powder
1 quart vanilla ice cream

Combine milk, honey, strawberries, malted milk powder and one pint ice cream. Beat with rotary beater until blended. Pour into tall glasses and garnish with scoops of ice cream. Makes 6-8 servings.

It's a family picnic day and you have packed up the car with food, swimsuits, toys, blankets, extra clothing and children. Your destination is your favorite lake for an exciting day of swimming, sunning and frolicking. If the picnic thermos jug has been filled with honey fruit punch, you serve a quick energy renewer when it's eating time. The punch is an easy to make combination of orange, lemon and grape juices delicately and deliciously flavored with honey.

HONEY FRUIT PUNCH

1 cup orange juice
½ cup lemon juice
2 cups grape juice
2 cups water
4 tablespoons honey

Mix thoroughly. Chill. Serve cold. Yield: 6 servings.

Patio Picnic– Soup, Stuffies

There's always something new under the sun and today's patio picnic is just that — an outdoor meal with exciting different finger foods called "Stuffies" and an icy cold tomato-mushroom "Soup Mate" as a novel beverage.

A "Soup Mate" is a combination of two kinds of soup which makes a new soup that's very personally your own. Perhaps it's already a custom at your house to mix and match complementary soups from your pantry shelf. When the weather is warm and muggy, you'll enjoy these twosome soups chilled until they are frosty cold — green pea and tomato—black bean and cream of mushroom — celery and asparagus — tomato and any cream soup. To make cold soup drinks especially good, pre-chill the glasses and rub the edge with lemon juice; serve them with a celery or cucumber stick stirrer; pour them over frozen beef broth or tomato soup cubes.

Another new soup beverage that's earning an enviable position with the sipping set is Frisky Sour, a beef broth and fresh lemon juice concoction with tangy good flavor. This drink is served frosty cold at snack time or at the cocktail hour. It's also recommended highly as a quick perker-upper for summer athletes.

Two kinds of "Stuffies" are shown above, bread rounds with a center filling and stuffed vegetable shells. They are best when chilled until deliciously cold.

FROSTY TOMATO-MUSHROOM SOUPMATE

2 cans (10½ ounces each) condensed tomato soup
2 cans (10½ ounces each) condensed cream of mushroom soup
3 soup cans cold milk

In large pitcher stir soups until smooth; gradually add milk. Chill and serve in mugs or glasses. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

FRISKY SOUR

2 cans (10½ ounces each) condensed beef broth, chilled
1 soup can ice water
¼ cup fresh lemon juice

Combine ingredients. Shake. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

CELERY-HAM STUFFIES

2 cans (4½ ounces) deviled ham
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
2 tablespoons chopped stuffed olives

Combine ingredients, mixing well with fork. Use as filling for celery stalks and as spread for sliced cucumber rounds. Makes about 1 cup filling or spread.

GREEN PEPPER AND CHERRY TOMATO STUFFIES

1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened
3 tablespoons drained, canned, minced clams
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt

Blend cream cheese with remaining ingredients creaming until smooth. Cut small green peppers in quarters. Partially scoop out the centers of cherry or plum tomatoes. Fill the cheese mixture. Makes about 1¼ cups filling.

FRENCH BREAD STUFFIES

2 thin loaves French bread
½ cup peanut butter
¾ cup creamed cottage cheese
2 tablespoons chopped black olives
½ cup finely diced celery
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons chili sauce
1 tablespoons milk
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon A-1 sauce

Cut bread almost through lengthwise; carefully open loaves and pull out inside of each loaf being careful not to split the back Combine remaining ingredients and mix until well blended; pack into loaves and press them back together; chill. At serving time slice each roll thinly. Makes about 20 stuffies.

Make the old favorite "bunch of grapes" salad the easy way. Ruffle any of the new convenience cheese flavors over rounded surface of fresh or canned pear halves. Stud with halves of seeded grapes and serve on crisp greens.

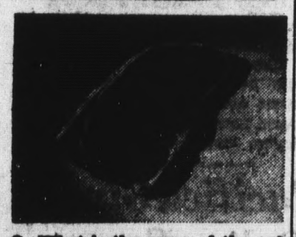
You'll Win With These Hamburgers

As popular as hamburgers are, no one likes to eat them week in and week out cooked in the selfsame fashion. Ward off any complaints with this marvelous recipe for barbecued hamburgers.

BARBECUED HAMBURGERS

1 tablespoon corn oil
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1 cup ketchup
¼ cup dark corn syrup
2 tablespoon s Worcestershire sauce
1½ teaspoons mustard-with-horseradish
1 teaspoon vinegar
¼ teaspoon crushed dried rosemary
¼ teaspoon crushed dried oregano
¼ teaspoon crushed dried savory
4 uncooked hamburger patties (1 pound ground beef)

Heat corn oil in heavy saucepan. Add onion; cook over low heat, stirring frequently, until tender but not brown. Stir in remaining ingredients. Simmer, uncovered, 10 to 15 minutes. Cool. Place hamburger patties in refrigerator dish. Pour 3 tablespoons sauce over each patty, moistening it completely, including the bottom. Cover dish; let marinate in refrigerator 2 to 3 hours. Remove patties. Broil to desired degree of doneness turning once, basting occasionally with remaining sauce. Makes ½ servings.



Q. What is the name of the cut of meat?

A. Beef Top Round Steak.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. It is one large muscle from the inside of the beef round.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. By braising. The meat is first browned in lard or drippings. The drippings are poured off, the meat is seasoned and a small amount of liquid is added. The utensil is covered tightly and the meat allowed to cook slowly until tender. Round steak cut ¾ inch thick requires about 45 to 60 minutes. Steaks cut 1½ inches thick require about 2 hours.

Simple Foods Make a Meal

Now is the time to enjoy those famous Idaho-grown Russet Potatoes and huge delicate-flavored Sweet Spanish Onions—abundant, economical, and of their usual high quality. While you are shopping for these bargains, do note the Quick Idaho Potato Products on your grocer's shelves and in the freezer cases. New ones are joining the old stand-bys. These handy foods are of the same fine flavor and quality of potato you find under the skin of your favorite "Idaho."

Stuffed Baked "Idahos" with Crab Newburg: bake the desired number of even-sized potatoes, scrubbed but not oiled, in a 400 to 450 degree F. (hot) oven to make a crisp skin. Test for doneness with a thin skewer, so skin will not be marred. When tender, roll each in mitted hands. Cut off top or in half, depending on size. Scoop out potato; prepare as for mashed potatoes, using hot milk and butter. Pile the mashed potato lightly into each shell, hollowing out the center to build up sides, thereby leaving a "dish" to house the Crab or Lobster or Shrimp Newburg, Chicken a la King, or even creamed dried beef. Just before serving time, place potatoes on a heat-proof platter. Brush tops with melted butter. If desired, sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese. Bake in a 375 degree F. (moderately-hot) oven until tops are golden brown and the potato inside the shell is sizzling hot. Fill shells with desired creamed mixture. Good served with a jellied tomato salad and French-fried Sweet Spanish Onion Rings: for batter, combine in flour sifter 1 cup sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt. In a deep bowl, beat 1 egg until thick and lemon-colored. Add 1 cup milk, 1 tablespoon vegetable salad oil. Stir in sifted ingredients, beating until smooth. For Onion Rings, slice 3 large unpeeled Idaho Sweet Spanish onions about ¼-inch thick. Peel slices. Separate into rings. Take out the end pieces and centers to chop and freeze, easily done by spreading on a cookie sheet. Freeze quickly. Place loosely in jars or freezer containers. As much as is needed may be taken out.

To fry onion rings, heat shortening or oil about 3 inches deep in deep-frying kettle to 375 degrees F. Dip a few onion rings at a time into the batter so that each ring is completely covered, using a long-handled two-tined fork and letting drain a second before dropping into heated oil. (Easier not to use a deep-frying basket.) Fry until golden-brown. Lift out with second long-handled fork; drain on paper toweling. Sprinkle lightly with salt. Serve hot. These fried rings may be kept hot by placing in a 325 degree F. (moderately-slow) oven until all rings are fried. Keep in single layer.

Easy Summer Entertaining

"Drop by after the beach for a cool drink and some hors d'oeuvres." So many hostesses take care of their summer entertaining this way. It's economical and festive at the same time.

Guaranteed to make quite a splash with your guests is a frosty drink idea, Frisky Sour by name. Cool as a summer breeze, this fun beverage is refreshingly low in calories and high in protein. Easy to make too. If you're expecting 8 guests, chill 2 cans of condensed beef broth for 4 hours. Then combine with ½ soup can water, 8 ice cubes, 3 to 4 tablespoons lemon juice.

Prepare the snacks early in the day. After all, the hostess is also entitled to her sunbath. Pineapple chunks wrapped in sizzling bacon, rich, black prunes stuffed with juicy, red apples, golden chicken livers with water chestnuts are especially nice for warm weather entertaining. Just before the company is expected, heat the snacks in a chafing dish. A small dish of curried nuts for nibblers, fresh flowers in your favorite vase will lend the gracious touches that add to a hostess' reputation.

FRISKY SOUR

2 cans (10½ ounce each) condensed beef broth
½ soup can water
3 to 4 tablespoons lemon juice
8 ice cubes

Put all ingredients into a shaker. Cover and shake. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

HIMALAYA

Fanciers of the exotic will be intrigued with this cooler.

1 can (11¼ ounces) condensed green pea soup
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed tomato soup
2 soup cans ice water
1 teaspoon curry powder
Flaked coconut

Chill cans of soup in refrigerator 3 or 4 hours. Just before serving, mix or shake soups, water and curry powder. Blend well. Serve in glass goblets; garnish with coconut. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

PINEAPPLE WRAPPED IN BACON

4 slices bacon
12 pineapple chunks

Cut bacon slices into thirds, crosswise. Wrap each piece around a chunk of pineapple; fasten with toothpicks. Broil about 4 inches from heat, turning until cooked on all sides. Makes 12 snacks.

STUFFED PRUNES

12 large cooked prunes, pitted
12 pieces diced red apples
½ cup sherry

Stuff prunes with apple pieces; fasten with tooth picks. Arrange in saucepan or skillet in a single layer. Pour on sherry. Cover. Heat slowly. Makes 12 snacks.

CHICKEN LIVERS WITH WATER CHESTNUTS

12 water chestnuts
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
6 chicken livers

Cut water chestnuts in half crosswise. Lightly brown in butter. Remove from pan and set aside. Cut chicken livers in half. Add to remaining butter. Cook until tender, about 8 minutes, stirring occasionally. Skewer on toothpicks with a water chestnut half at each end. Makes 12 snacks.

CURRIED NUTS

2 cups mixed nuts
½ teaspoon curry powder

Arrange nuts in shallow baking dish. Sprinkle with curry powder. Roast in a moderately hot oven (400 degree F.) until hot, about 5 minutes, stirring now and then. Makes 2 cups.

This Sauce Is Tangy

In a very popular restaurant in New York City, a favorite on the menu the year around is frankfurters with mustard sauce.

A recipe for the mustard sauce was worked out. It is given here with the suggestion that it can be served either hot or cold. Served cold, it is excellent for up-grading picnic hot dogs.

MUSTARD SAUCE

1 tablespoon corn starch
1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon cayenne
2 tablespoons corn oil
1 cup milk
1 egg yolk
1 tablespoon vinegar

Combine corn starch, sugar, dry mustard, salt and cayenne in saucepan. Mix in corn oil, then gradually blend in milk. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and boils. Remove from heat. Mix egg yolk with vinegar. Gradually stir into hot mixture. Cook 1 minute, stirring constantly. Serve hot or cold with meat or fish. Makes 1 cup.

Growth Of Vince's Thru The Years—Outstanding

Vince's Italian and Seafood Restaurant is a name particulary known to diners who enjoy dignity, distinction, and dedication to culinary quality.

This has been Vincent A. Licata's policy since he first established his restaurant in the summer of 1945. In only a matter of weeks from opening day, Vince's Restaurant was to become one of the most popular on the Peninsula.

V. Licata

The original site included a small diner with an adjoining outdoor fish market styled after his father's former Fisherman's Wharf restaurant, where Vince, as he is known to his many friends, served his early years' apprenticeship.

Six years later, Vince was forced to retire, upon his doctor's orders. He leased his thriving business and moved to Los Altos. In 1956, Vince returned to the restaurant—only to find that, during his absence, San Mateo had grown so much that the business site had to be remodeled and enlarged to accommodate the population increase.

Being a connoisseur of fine food, Vince has presented a restaurant operation that has attracted distinguished figures in the business and social world as well as the local regulars who are always on the alert for a new venture in dinning out. No expenses was spared on the remodeling, of which the Peninsula will be well proud.

Fresh seafood for the home is also available at the next-door location. There is always plenty of parking space.

Vince, his family and staff will be looking forward to seeing you from now on. And in his words: "Until then, arrivederci!"

MANY RAVES over the new menu at La Touraine in Burlingame, the Peninsula's top French restaurant. Co-owner Maurice Brossier's delicious delicacies never tasted better. Andre Dumont, partner-maitre d', is already mulling over a possible expansion of the popular spot, on Lorton Avenue near Burlingame Avenue. . . . Pancho's, the colorful little Mexican restaurant that won a national design award this year, is one of the few Peninsula restaurants open for both lunch and dinner seven days a week. Next time you're near Five Points in Redwood, stop in at Pancho's, if only to sample an afternoon taco. . . . People travel from all over the Bay Area to enjoy the fine foods at the Villa Chartier. Stan Winters of Millbrae reports that his good friends Jack and Ruth Green recently journeyed from Orinda

Maurice Brossier to celebrate their thirty-seventh anniversary at the Villa Chartier. . . . The holiday season is arriving early at Phil Lehr's downtown Steakery—he already has several luncheon and dinner party reservations for the Christmas season in his private dining rooms.

FRANK TORRES announces: There will be a big celebration (something like our Fourth of July) at his Montara Beach Resort Sunday, July 28. It's the day of the Peruvian anniversary. Robert Rossi, grandson of Mr. Torres, is one of the newest additions to the club's bartending staff . . . Free movies are a Sunday attraction at Big Al's Gashouse. Curtain times: 5-7-9 p.f. Fourth anniversary party at this week . . . Fourth anniversary party at Frank Paone's Club Waldorf, tonight and tomorrow night. Frank and Ken Hopkins invite you to enjoy the free smorgasbord, entertainment, and a fun fest . . . Lee Hester and the Astronotes bandstand in the smart Morocco Room Wednesday through Saturday nights . . . Earl's House of Fine Foods means just that. Steaks, seaford, chicken and prime ribs the order of the noonday and evening . . . Sil Oliva, fight expert at the Fisherman's Wharf Exposition Fish Grotto, is one of the few who picked round one for the departure of Floyd Patterson . . . Horky's Mexican food is prepared to travel at both Palo Alto and Belmont locations . . . The Sunday morning fizz brunch at Bruno Scatena's Joe's of Westlake is attracting many golf players—pros and beginners. The "bull sessions" here are the greatest.

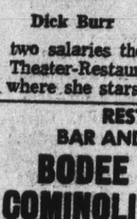
SONG STAR TONY BENNETT flocks into the spotlight with "The Damon Runyon of Comedians," Larry Storch, starting Friday, August 2, at Frank Sinatra's Cal Neva Lodge, Lake Tahoe. The top-name duo follows headliners Keely Smith and Allen and Rossi in the Celebrity Room. Bennett, backed by the Ralph Sharon Trio, shapes his act around the recording hits he has rocketed above the million mark in sales—"Because of You," "Cold, Cold Heart," "Rags to Riches," and "Stranger in Paradise." Larry Storch applies the hard work of the professional to his career as a comedian. "My greatest interest is people," says he. "I go 'window shopping' along city streets for unusual faces and characters . . . Famed clown Emmett Kelly is featured at Harrah's Club, Lake Tahoe, a as "roving ambassador of good cheer." Kelly, whose characterization of "Weary Willie" has made him a favorite the world over, will be roaming Harrah's Tahoe casinos, South Shore Room and Recreation Center through Sept. 2 . . . Completion of the Las Vegas Thunderbird Hotel's $1 million four-story addition is scheduled for early September, it was announced today by the resort's president, Joe Wells.

Tony Bennett

OPENING TONIGHT AT THE CRYSTAL BAY CLUB, located on the north end of Lake Tahoe, are The Lancers (Jerry Meacham, Dick Burr, "Corky" Lindgren, and Bob Porter), a lively foursome who keep the show moving and sing almost any arrangement requested, with very comic introductions. This is their first engagement at Lake Tahoe and something you won't want to miss . . . The satiny vocal stylings of Frank Sinatra and the big band sound of Tommy Dorsey, a page out of the '40s, will come alive again here on August 8 at Morris Lansburgh's fabulous Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas. Singing the tunes made famous by his father will be Frank Sinatra Jr. as featured vocalist with the Dorsey Band, conducted by Sam Donahue, as they reminisce for audiences in the Driftwood Lounge during a four week stint . . . Korean beauty Patti Kim, a principal in "Flower Drum Song," is earning two salaries these days. Patti performs twice in the Thunderbird Theater-Restaurant, Las Vegas, then dashes over to the Tally Ho, where she stars twice nightly in that resort's lounge.



Dick Burr

Bring Coupons To Barney's

Even with the summer business going full blast, Barney O'Malia, owner of Barney's Casino in Lake Tahoe (south shore) Nevada, is still honoring dollar coupons that appear in his advertisement. However, they are not valid on Saturday, Sunday, or holidays during the summer months.

Louie Bacchini, co-owner of Rocca's restaurant, sent his 7-year-old niece Lisa Bacchini, who lives in Sacramento, a bracelet as a gift. Louis received the following thank you note: "Dear Uncle Lou. Thank you very much for the bracelet. I like it very much. The second time I wore it, it broke."

Salute To Dolph Thomas

Alma Carrere and her brother, Tom Zucchelli (former Golden Gloves champ), were dinner hosts at their San Mateo Valdoro Restaurant, last week, to Mr. and Mrs. Dolph Thomas. In my estimation, Dolph was, and still is, one of the greatest fight conditioners of all time. It was he who set Max Baer's sights on the Heavyweight Championship of the world.

The real great Continentals are back at the Blue Peacock in Kings Bowl by popular demand, according to Manager Roy Blackwood.

Family Problems

Lew Lehr, the Marina steakman, tells this one and he swears it's true. A guy was talking to Stan Marcus, Lehr's head fizzer, and told him his family wanted him to take them to the zoo.

"My daughter talks like a parrot, my son laughs like a hyena, my wife watches me like a hawk, my cook's as cross as a bear, and my mother-in-law says I'm an old gorilla. When I go out, I want a change."

Word reaches this office that redecorating plans are in the offing for the Brentwood Lodge. How they could improve anything here (including the business) is an Alfred Hitchcock mystery.

No chef problems at the Tip Top restaurant, where owners John and Tina Paskaleff both put in a kitchen shift—and have for the past 10 years.

JAM SESSION—The Vagabonds, known the world over for their musical talents and zany capers will be here for five more days Oakland Holiday Inn.

Pioneer Hotel Will Have New Owners

Bodee Cominoli, owner of the Woodside Pioneer Hotel for as far back as I can remember, has sold out. Understand the new owners take over next month, but Miss Cominoli will stay on until the end of August to acquaint them with the busy operation. More about this in future editions.

Atlantic City might have its beauties (with measurements to match), but so has Luz Garcia at her Sinaloa. Maria Diaz of the Polo and Marie dance team is a "looker" with hour glass measurements (36-22-36).

Enrico Romano Art Fancier

Never knew until lately that Enrico Romano, the Pacifica restaurateur, was an art fancier. On his days off you're sure to find him in art galleries admiring the works of prominent painters. Come to think of it, the picture on the wall of his restaurant has an "arty" look and it wouldn't surprise me if he "oils" it up, one of these days.

Jack Peterson "On The Job"

It's like old times at Finocchio's with genial greeter Jack Peterson back on the job after an illness of several months' duration. Jack's case in down in the medical records as one of "miraculous recovery requiring great courage." He survived major surgery from which recovery is rare, which goes to show why Jack is so successful in being supremely congenial when the crowds storming Finocchio's nightly all but sweep him off his feet.

Tony Rossi, Burlingame real estate biggie, took a tip from "Bright Lights" and dined at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel for some of the best corn bread in these parts. Chef Tom Delano, take another bow.

Hurry And Guess Salami Weight

Enjoyed a chat with "Kappie," the Gold Rush restaurateur, who informed me that you are sending in your salami weight guesses and many have stopped by the restaurant to look-see before guessing. The deadline for the contest is midnight, August 1.

Milt Tonini of the Princeton Inn says his definition of "High Noon" is anyone having five martinis at 12 o'clock.

The extra finishing touch to a delicious chicken or steak dinner at Keith Williamson's Burlingame Chicken House is a tasty mint served compliments of the house.

Special note to Nick Gust: Dick Grady, owner of the Twenty-sixth avenue and Geary Boulevard Cleaning company, enjoyed his veal scallopini marsala dinner so much that he plans a return trip to your Rockaway Beach restaurant with 20 members of his club.

The Holiday Inn of South San Francisco offers the ultimate for banquet parties and meetings. Accommodations for up to 200 persons.

CARAVAN INN THURSDAY NIGHT—Jeanne and Johnny Winn make their West Coast debut at the Mountain View Caravan Inn. Top names in the Middle West, their opening here will be an eventful occasion.

Caravan Inn Presents The 'Johnny Winn Duo'

The "Johnny Winn Duo," long considered one of the most popular combos in the Middle West, is making its initial invasion of the Pacific Coast Thursday evening, August 1, at the Caravan Inn in Mounain jview.

General manager Betty Sedam caught this act during a recent cross-country trip and has been waiting for an open date on their busy booking schedule—which finally takes place.

Betty Sed.

Jeanne Winn plays 13 different instruments—including the accordion, organ and drums, and belts a song with a verve on the Doris Day style.

Johnny Winn paces the act with his happy patter, plays jazz guitar and banjo. Supplementing their instrumental versatility, the twosome also features a relaxed-style audience participation and sing-alongs.

Backdrop this act with talented Bob Bellows at the piano, and the Mountain View Caravan Inn is off to a great start on its new entertainment program—which, from time to time, will include some of the biggest names in show business.

6 Stanford Profs Retire

Six Stanford faculty and staff members with a total of nearly two centuries service to the university will retire at the end of the current academic year.

They are: Margaret Barr, associate professor of physical education and education; Helene Blattner, associate professor of speech and drama; Bernard F. Haley, professor of economics; Grace Knopp, assistant professor of Spanish; Alfred R. Masters, director of physical education and athletics; and Cornelis van Niel, holder of the endowed Herzstein professorship of biology.

Professor Barr has been a Stanford faculty member 30 years, coming to Stanford in 1933 as a teaching assistant in physical education and resident assistant at Elm Cottage. A University of Missouri graduate, she has gained professional recognition for her work in hockey, fencing, archery, and English country dancing.

In a recent newsletter dedicated to her, her colleagues and former students commented: "In an age when standards are often lax, yours have been of the highest. You are a perfectionist and expect others to be likewise . . ."

Professor Blattner came to Stanford in 1946. She has taught voice training, interpretation of literature, and phonetics, besides doing considerable research in speech correction. A University of Iowa graduate, she taught there and at Texas Technological College.

Associate Prof. Robert Loper, acting executive head of the Department of Speech and Drama, says of her work: "She has been the main counselor and champion for hundreds of undergraduates just beginning their program at Stanford. In each case, her kindness, genuine ability to make a student feel he was not being swallowed into some giant machine, and her firm pressure on the occasional laggard made her a very nearly ideal counselor for undergraduates."

Professor Haley received his bachelor's degree at Stanford in 1922, his master's in 1923, and joined the faculty in 1924. Former executive head of the Department of Economics, he served many years as managing editor of The American Economic Review. He currently holds a Ford Foundation fellowship to study the Common Market and will join the University of California faculty in the fall.

Of his colleague, Prof. Edward S. Shaw of the Economics department says: "The beneficiaries of Professor Haley's Stanford career include his students, who knew him as a superb teacher, and his colleagues, whom he has served in both local and national context. They include the public, whose welfare he has represented in government agencies."

Professor Knopp did her undergraduate studies at the University of Oregon, receiving both a master's and a doctorate at Stanford. She taught at MacMurray College before coming to Stanford in 1942, where she has taught first, second and third-year Spanish courses.

Her colleagues describe her as "a loyal, hard-working faculty member. . .taking on additional responsibilities without complaint and always ready to lessen the load of other faculty members in times of stress. Her generosity has been equally evident with our students, whom she has helped and encouraged unceasingly."

Masters received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Stanford in 1924, serving as student body president and captain of the soccer team. He joined the staff as graduate manager of athletics the following year, subsequently becoming general manager of the Board of Athletic Control. Named director of physical education and athletics in 1946, he managed the U. S. Olympic Track and Field team in 1948.

Masters many friends will honor him at a dinner August 31, the date of his retirement, at Rickey's Hyatt House.

Van Niel joined the Stanford faculty in 1929. He has taught general microbiology at the Hopkins Marine Station during the summer and concentrated on research for the rest of the year. His special field is the ecology, physiology, biochemistry and classification of micro-organisms.

Where Grass Won't Grow

THE GROUND COVER above is the striking "Carpet Bugle," Ajuga Reptans. It hugs the ground and sends up attractive spikes of blue flowers in the springtime. It is an ideal plant for semi-shaded areas.

Try Using Ground Cover Where Grass Won't Grow

By IVA NEWMAN

A stretch of green around the home is accepted practice in most areas but, there are places where grass is too difficult to grow or maintain. In these areas the answer is "ground covers." Under this heading are plants of all kinds, used to cover the soil surface.

Ground covers are divided into two groups, those that can be used in place of lawns and those that can't. In the first group, of course, there are very few, for to win a place in this group they must be resistant to foot traffic and other abuses which lawns tolerate. In the second group there are a great many, for they need only to cover exposed earth, hiding unsightly stretches of land or providing erosion control or both.

Members of the California Association of Nurserymen hesitate to label the first group as "lawn substitutes" for in a horticulturist's eye, there are no real substitutes for a fine lawn. But occasionally the need for such a ground cover exists, usually because the gardener is too busy doing other things to care for a lawn. The following two plant materials may be tried in place of grass in such circumstances.

Lawn-Like

Dichondra. Most lawn - like of all the grass alternatives, dichondra needs time to take over, but when it does, the results are worth waiting for. It forms a green mat that does not need weekly mowing, (cutting once or twice a year usually keeps it from forming tufts) but it is not completely happy with neglect. Watering is a must, albeit not so often as with a lawn, and weeds, when they appear, should be pulled by hand, for the normal weed killers also damage dichondra. Dichondra will grow in full sun or part shade. It can be planted from seed, just as a lawn, or from plugs purchased at a nursery in flats.

Ornamental Strawberry. A ground - hugging creeper, the Ornamental Strawberry is not exactly the cover for playgrounds or steady foot traffic, but it will stand some traffic without ill effect. Strawberry ground covers have become much more popular since the advent some years back of the new Hybrid No. 25 which produces edible fruit, something the old Wild Strawberry seldom did. These are carried on the plants from spring until late summer, appearing with the white flowers, and while they lack the size of commercially grown, store-quality table fruit, they make up for it with their delicious flavor. It's terrific.

You can't skimp on soil preparation if you want these two ground covers to really put on a good show and keep it up. Work the soil deeply adding plenty of humus material just as you would if you were starting a fine lawn. Then, if you would save yourself a lot of hand weeding, treat the prepared soil with one of the pre-planting weed preventivs. You will have to wait a few weeks until this material has done its work and its effects have left the soil. Be sure to read the label carefully and follow directions exactly.

When one wants merely to cover ground, as in a parkway, on a rocky bank or on a slope that defies a lawn, ivy is usually the first type of plant material that comes to mind. Since we all know how well ivy does, let's look at some of the lesser known covers.

Everybody Can Grow Carnations

Every home garedner can now grow carnations fully as lovely as those the florists feature. Comparatively new hardy varieties, such as Enfant de Nice and Chaubaud's Giants, have greatly reduced the amount of care needed. But they retain the almost ever-blooming character and spicily fragrant double flowers which have made carnations one of the most popular of all perennials.

These newer varieties are now available in plant bands or tiny pots, in bloom. Not only are these newer plants hardier but the color range also has been greatly extended. In addition to the familiar whites, pinks, and reds, there now are such colors as rose, lavender, yellow, orange, purple and two-tones.

Pampering is needed no longer, but a sunny location and good drainage are essential. Space flat or plant-band size plants eight inches apart for mass planting and 15 inches apart if they are to be handled as individual plants. Plant them now with the top of the root ball slightly above ground level. Raise the beds if there is any question of drainage. This will prevent water from standing around the trunks and eventually causing stem rot.

When plants are purchased quite small, set them out then, when they are four to six inches tall; nip off the tops to encourage the growth of more flower stalks from the base. If you want to concentrate growth in one large showy flower, snap off all side buds on a stem, leaving only one bud at the end.

To encourage long straight stems on individual specimen plants, tie them to chicken wire supports. Or save tying by growing them within individual chicken wire collars, which their foliage soon hides.

S.M. Mayors Ask Road Fund Plan

San Mateo county council of mayors took steps last week toward correcting road deficiencies within the county by urging establishment of a road fund with monies which will be received as a result of the Collier bill.

The Collier bill, raising the state gasoline tax from six to seven cents a gallon, was signed into law two weeks ago by Governor Brown.

The mayors council unanimously passed a resolution urging the road fund and recommending that the recently defeated city-county road plan be used as a priority list for projects at its regular monthly meeting at the Villa Chartier in San Mateo.

Review Plan

The council requested the Greater Highways committee of San Mateo county to review the plan which would place all funds received by both the city and the county plus the required matching monies in a road fund.

The cities cooperated and participated with the county in the preparation of an engineering report made by the George S. Nolte consulting engineering firm on city-county road system at a cost of almost $200,000.

In a poor showing of voters the plan was defeated.

The mayors' council plan is to construct as many priority projects from that list as possible with available funds in the new road fund.

Daly City mayor Joseph Verducci, author of the resolution and chairman of the mayors council, said, "I think one of the bigger problems in the county today is transportation. It would be a crime not to use the Nolte report as a master plan."

Verducci said the only way to efficiently solve the county's traffic problem is by city-county cooperation on a plan of this magnitude.

Student in Drama Shop

Robert Stein, 43 Windsor drive, Daly City, is one of 53 residents taking part in San Francisco State college's tenth annual drama workshop for high school students.

Dr. Clarence A. Miller, executive head of the college's drama directs the workshop.

According to Miller, the workshop offers training in acting, stage-craft, body movement, lighting technique, make-up, and costume construction. The faculty members are provided by the college's drama department.

To conclude the summer's activities, the workshop will offer productions of the musical "Archy and Mehitabel," Archibald MacLeish's "Air Raid," and the absorbing mystery "Shall We Join the Ladies," by J. M. Barrie, tomorrow and Friday. Box office telephone is JU 5-7174.

Though no college credit is given for the workshop course, the students who complete the intensive program all become members of Alpha Delta Sigma, the group's own honorary drama society.
